Ready to Compromise With Congress on Major Bills

BY FRANK CORMIER
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy, deeply worried about the fate of his legislative program in the new Congress, is ready to settle for a gradual $5 billion to $10 billion tax cut. In order to compromise with powerful critics, the President has

Philadelphia Fire Loss Set At Millions

3 Dozen Dwellings Razed; 9-Story Plant Burned Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A burned-out shell of a nine-story building and smoldering ruins of at least three dozen homes were all that remained today of what was the largest fire in this city's history. There was no immediate damage estimate, but authorities said it would be in the millions. The 12-alarm blaze, which started Tuesday in a factory warehouse in North Philadelphia, raged for more than three hours before being brought under control. Fire Chief George E. Hink slipped on an icy pavement. He was the only person reported injured. About 50 families were evacuated from nearby row houses that later were reduced to fiery rubble by the warehouse's collapsing walls. Another 2,000 residents in the area were routed in freezing temperatures, but most of them returned when their homes were no longer threatened. Food and shelter were provided by the Salvation Army and Red Cross. The Civil Defense also aided in evacuating families.

Quadruplets Born to Pair in Philippines

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Philippine quadruplets born New Year's Day are reported doing well today but the parents are wondering how they will provide for the new arrivals. Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Ylanan already had six children and Ylanan, a mechanic, says he will be hard pressed to support the brood. The quads—named Adelia, Belia, Celia and Dina—weighed from 2.64 pounds to 2.2 pounds at their birth in a hospital.

Expert Tells All About New Income Tax Law

A new income tax regulation took effect Jan. 1 — New Year's day. Rarely in the half century of federal income taxation has a change stirred such a furore as this 1963 crackdown by Uncle Sam on expense account living. It has been denounced as "anti-business" as forcing honest businessmen to become liars... as a disastrous blow to the restaurant, hotel and convention business. The same regulation has been lauded for plugging one of the most gaping of all tax loopholes for curbing high living and high jinx at government expense. What's all the hullabaloo about? Who's hurt — if anybody — and how badly? Sterling F. Green, veteran Associated Press writer who for years has specialized in tax, business and financial matters, answers many of the questions that businessmen are asking about the new regulation in the first of three stories on Page A-4 today.

Blast Rips Packing Firm In Indiana

Six Known Dead, Five Others Presumed Killed

BY JAMES R. FOLEY
TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — An explosion tore through the Home Packing Co. plant today and 11 were feared dead and at least 37 injured.

Fire Chief Norman Fesler said eight bodies were removed from the rubble, and three others spotted in the ruins were presumed dead.

The rubble reeked with deadly ammonia fumes and scalding steam.

At least one survivor was in the ruins, and rescuers worked gingerly toward him, hoping to avoid injuring him more.

Gas Hampers Rescue

Ammonia gas, apparently escaping from ruptured refrigeration lines, hampered the rescue work, and a coal mine rescue squad used gas masks to dig into the rubble.

Company officials had trouble determining exactly how many production workers were in the wrecked section. They set up a temporary office, asking other workers to register for an accounting. Early estimates had about eight unaccounted for in the ruins.

The blast occurred about 7:30 a.m. (CST) as the day workers were reporting to the riverfront plant.

About 75 workers joined in rescue efforts, including six fire companies, civil defense workers and city and state police.

Terre Haute, a city of 72,500, is 70 miles west of Indianapolis near the Illinois line.

The nation's traffic deaths during the long New Year's holiday period which began last Friday night claimed the lives of at least 10 persons.

Four persons died on the first day of 1963 after the state closed out one of its most tragic years on the highways with a 1962 death toll of 949, 41 more than died in 1961 and only six less than in the record year of 1956.

Vilas Pague, 24, Merrill, was killed early Tuesday when his car left a Lincoln County road and struck a culvert near Merrill.

Mrs. Paul Ellifson, 50, Cushing, was killed early Tuesday in a two-car collision on a Polk County road a few miles from her home.

John H. Wood, 41, La Crosse, was killed early today when his car and another automobile collided on Highway 16 near La Crosse.

Sen. Kerr's Death Certain to Have Wide Effect at Capital

Coronary Occlusion Is Fatal To Influential Oklahoman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., a powerful member of the Senate, is dead and his death is expected to have wide ranging repercussions in the White House, the Senate and his home state.

The 66-year-old multimillionaire oilman-senator toppled over Tuesday morning as he was telling a story to his physician at Doctors Hospital. He died minutes later.

Death was attributed to a coronary occlusion. He entered the hospital Dec. 16 for treatment of a respiratory infection. Doctors found evidence a heart ailment, but had said he was making good progress.

President Kennedy, who got word of Kerr's death while flying to the Orange Bowl in Miami to see the Oklahoma-Alabama football game, issued a statement calling Kerr's legislative career as "exceptional."

Influenced Legislation — "In the last two years alone, almost every major bill enacted bore the mark of his untiring leadership and skill," the President's statement said.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, whose four-year term expires Jan. 14, was shocked at the death of the man sometimes called the uncrowned king of the Senate. Also

White House, the Senate and his home state. The first Republican governor in Oklahoma's history, Henry Bellmon, is to be sworn in Jan. 14. It was anticipated that Edmondson probably would act to have the vacancy filled before then. Congress convenes Jan. 9.

Johnson's Tribute — Kerr's death brings the Senate lineup to 66 Democrats and 33 Republicans. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson issued a statement saying his longtime friend "had the strength of the pioneers of old and daring of the pioneers of today and he gave both to his country in full measure."

Rough hewn, with a cutting tongue and a keen mind, Kerr rose to new heights in the first

Nazi Criminals Seized Mass Killers Go on Trial

BY DAVID M. NICHOL
CHICAGO DAILY NEWS SERVICE
LUDWIGSBURG, Germany — Nearly 20 years ago, in 1943, Alois Haeftle, a peacetime policeman and SS lieutenant, had charge of a detail of Jewish prisoners in Kulmbach, or Chelmo, the first of the major Nazi "death camps" in Poland.

Haeftle's prisoners had the grisly task of sorting the garments of their slaughtered compatriots, and Haeftle himself, who admits he carried a whip — "but with no evil intent" — was having some second thoughts.

Fearful Retribution — It is recorded that he said at the time: "May God have pity on us all if this goes wrong. If Germany loses the war we can hang ourselves."

Germany lost the war, but Haeftle didn't hang. Instead, in the postwar confusion, he slipped into quiet anonymity. His name appeared on no lists of war criminals. His background escaped allied investigators.

He was living on a modest pension in Karlsruhe when retribution latched about two years ago in the person of a German policeman with an arrest warrant. The charge: Complicity in the murder of 180,000 people.

Now 69, Haeftle is one of 12 former officials of the Kulmbach

With little or no fanfare, West Germany has found out and is putting on trial the Nazis who are accused of putting to death millions of Jews and other civilians under Hitler. Here is the story of what David M. Nichol, Chicago Daily News Service correspondent in Germany, calls "this stirring of the public conscience."

Most of the others have been located and most of those in turn will face the courts. Half a dozen major trials are scheduled in 1963 along with a number of individual cases, and the cycle is not expected to finish before 1968.

This stirring of the public conscience is the product of a modest agency with a ponderous title. The Central Office of the ad-

3 of Family Perish in Fire Fourth Member Is Taken to Hospital in Critical Condition

CHICAGO (AP)—Three members of a family perished early today when flames engulfed the two-story brick bungalow on the city's Far South Side. Another member of the family was in critical condition.

Dead were Phillip Bonelli Sr., 55, a barber, his wife, Phyllis, 50, and a son Robert, 16, a high school student.

Another son, Phillip Jr., 20, a student at St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., was in critical condition in Little Company of Mary Hospital.

Fire Chief John Dillon said a neighbor, Mrs. Frank Neylon, reported the fire after being aroused by screams from the Bonelli home.

Another neighbor, Fred Estrin, 43, told firemen he saw Phillip Bonelli Jr. emerge from the burning home, then turn back inside in an apparent attempt to rescue his parents and brother.

Dillon said the fire apparently started in a basement sofa from a discarded cigarette, then spread through the house. Dillon estimated damage at $45,000. The bungalow was destroyed.

Phillip Bonelli Jr. was rescued by firemen from a second-story window.

Negotiators Trying To End Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators were called into session today for another effort to settle the dock strike which has tied up shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Representatives of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association were reported far apart on contract issues when the talks were recessed Monday.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who is mediating in the dispute, said there were some signs of understanding between the two sides. The strike of 40,000 dock workers on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts is in its 11th day.

The contract terms reached here between the union and the shipping association, which represents 145 ship and stevedore companies, traditionally have set the pattern for agreements in other ports.

Conviction of U.S. Foreign Service Officer Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals Monday upheld the conviction of U.S. Foreign Service officer L. C. Scarbeck for handing secret information to Red agents. It recommended a reduction in his 30-year sentence.

Scarbeck was convicted a year ago on charges that he gave Polish agents U.S. documents after they found out he was keeping a young Polish mistress.

Scarbeck, 41, married and with three children, was at the time an aide in the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw.

The Court of Appeals in its decision noted that Scarbeck had cooperated with U.S. officials during their investigation of the case. The court suggested that the U.S. District Court seriously consider exercising its power to reduce the sentence.

Scarbeck was sentenced to 10 years in prison on each of three counts of his indictment.

Delay Sentencing On Check Charges

County Judge Gustave Keller has postponed sentencing of Cornelius Van Handel 21 until Monday afternoon Jan. 7 in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, to allow more time for relatives to raise money to cover 21 worthless checks which Van Handel passed in Appleton in 1959.

Van Handel came to Appleton last week from Missouri and surrendered to Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and said he wanted to make restitution. He pleaded guilty to charges on three of the checks and is being held without bond in the Outagamie County jail.

Chimpanzee Artist Gets Too Temperamental

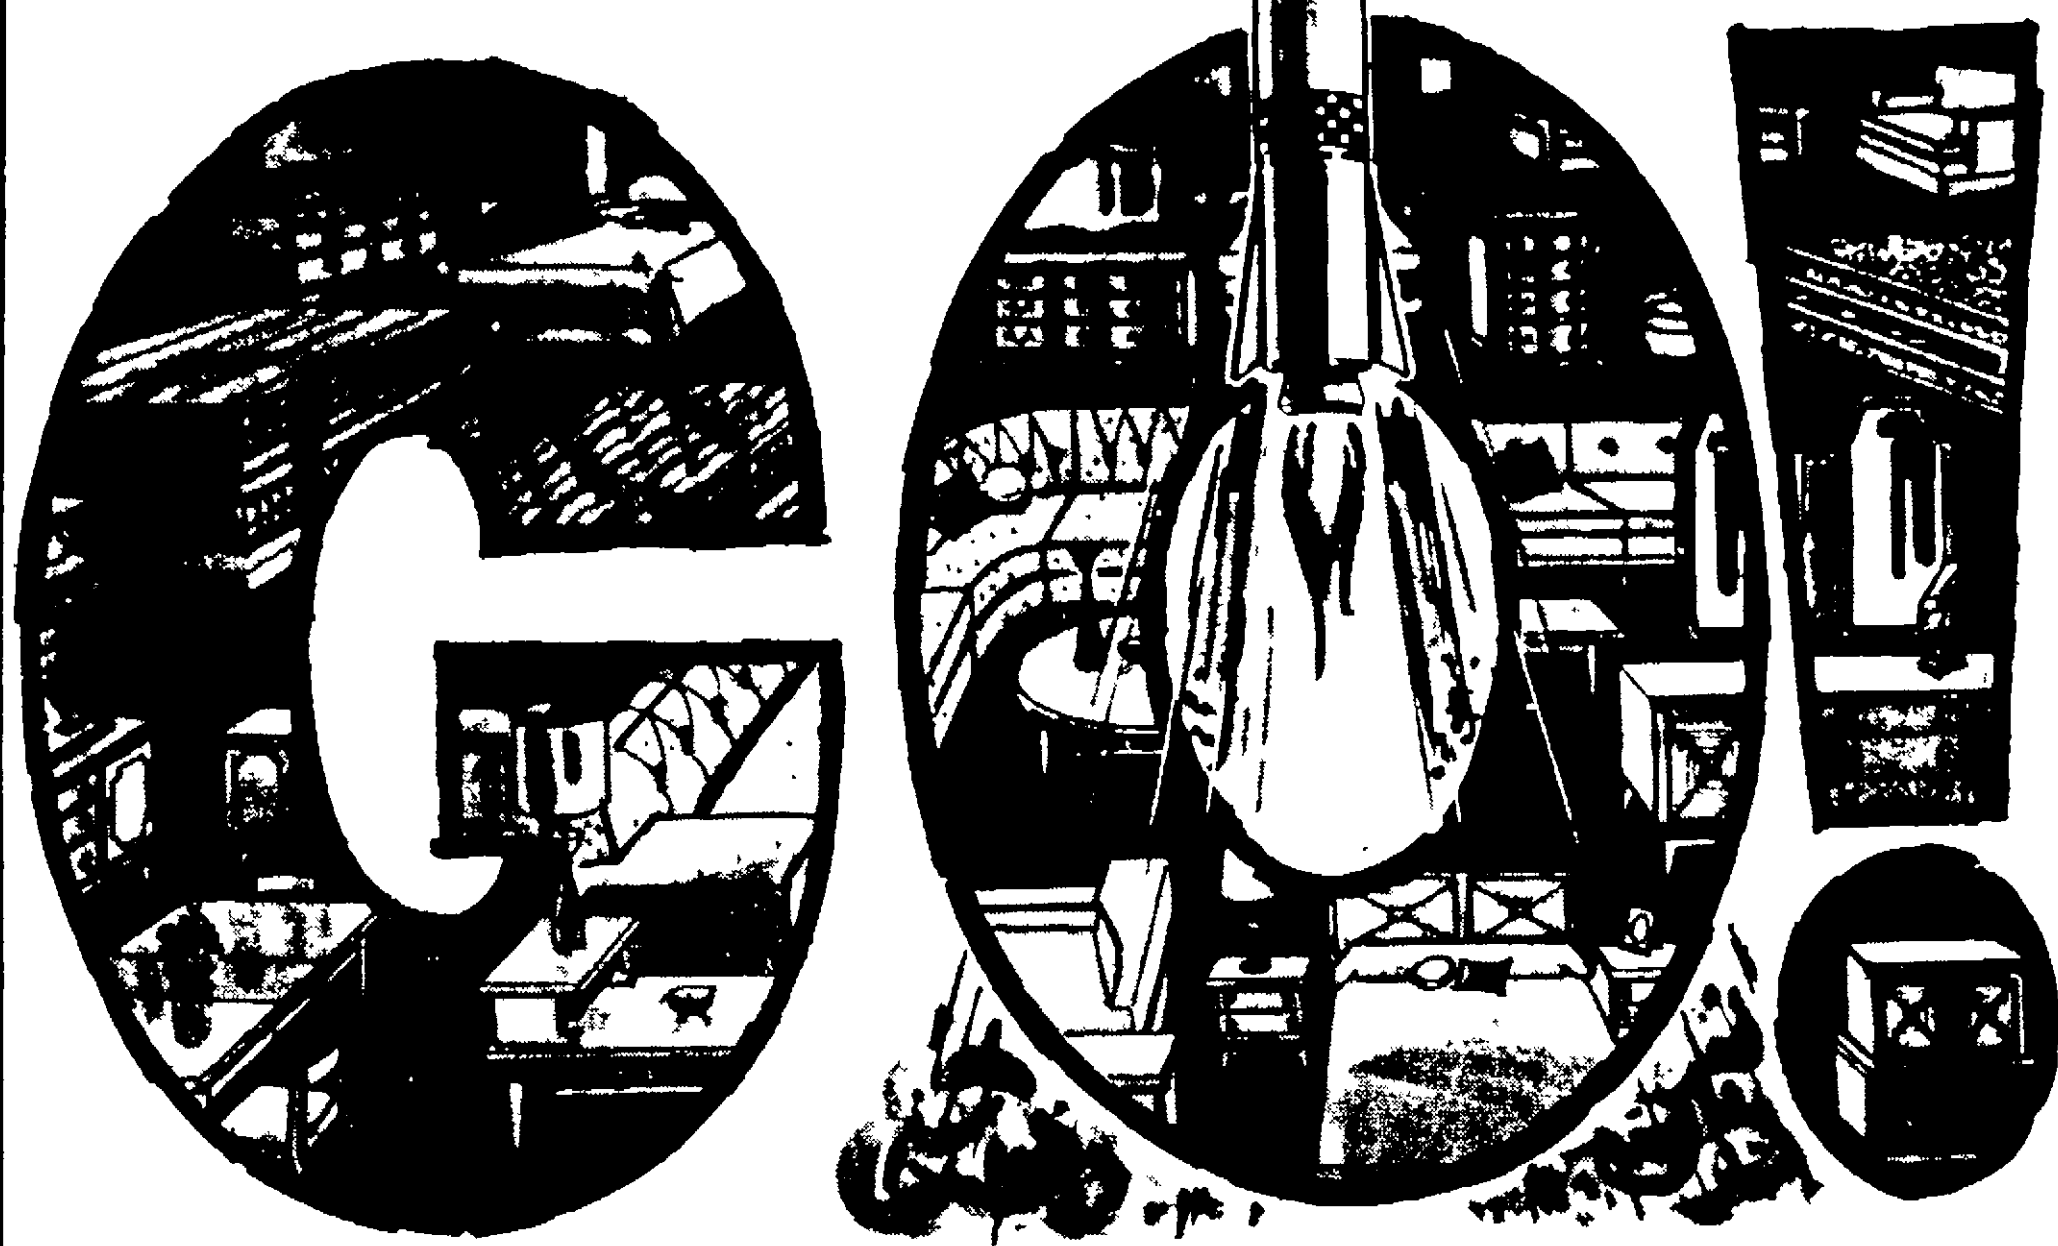

MANSHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Babette, a 2-year-old chimpanzee, lost her big opportunity for an art career.

The chimp was supposed to demonstrate finger painting at the Mansfield art fair but when the fair chairman came to view Babette's works, the chimp threw a prima donna like tantrum. She grabbed the paint, poured it over the papers and jumped into the mess, sending the red paint flying into the faces, hair, arms and clothing of the spectators.

Babette also managed to pinch one of the chairmen, who subsequently was given first aid and a tetanus shot.

Multiple Choice Tests Increase And So Does Criticism of Them

The use of multiple choice tests is increasing by leaps and bounds — and so is criticism of them. About one-third of the 1,800 to 2,000 colleges in the United States require candidates for admission to take one or more college board tests.

The tests are also in use in many employment situations. Soon even prospective members of the New York Stock Exchange will be required to pass a specifically designed multiple choice test.

But not everyone is so enthusiastic. Banesh Hoffmann, author of the recent book, "The Tyranny of Testing," contends that these tests "reward superficiality, ignore creativity and penalize the individual with a probing, subtle mind."

With all of their faults, multiple choice tests do serve a purpose. They give the employer or college, faced with screening thousands of applicants, an additional measure of aptitude.

In the case of college admission, the truly creative or strongly motivated or gifted student in most cases also will make a high score on the test.

Tests also assist industry screening agencies in selecting candidates from a large number of applicants. Most of these passing the tests succeed on the job. The fact that some persons score high on the tests and fail on the job is waved aside by the test makers since their statistics multiple choice tests with a simple admission.

An unsuspecting person only half reads the questions and terms quickly to the suggested answers. His mind is then led into making errors. Unless he is very careful his mind will leave out or insert words which make a false statement appear true.

The successful person understands that to avoid these pitfalls he must study the questions carefully BEFORE looking at the answers. He must hold the question accurately in mind while he chooses the correct response.

This procedure has made consistent winners out of consistent failures on multiple choice tests. If these tests are to be used to classify and screen us, it is only fair that everyone be given training in taking them.

Germans Put Nazi Mass Killers on Trial ministrations of justice for the Investigation of National Socialist Crimes of Violence."

11 Legal Experts

It operates from a few rooms in the state prison building in Ludwigsburg with a staff of 11 legal experts, a handful of secretaries, and an annual budget for salaries of about $125,000. It owes its origins to West Germany's federalized structure and to some remarkable coincidences.

In the postwar period both the allies and the German drafters of the country's new basic law felt the administration of justice and the police had been too centralized, too vulnerable to seizure such as that by Adolf Hitler. The result was a federal ministry of justice in Bonn with no executive authority, and no federal police, or FBI.

Criminal prosecution is the responsibility of state courts in the region in which a crime is committed. But most of the major Nazi crimes of violence occurred outside the present West German boundaries. No one seemed directly involved.

Sought Reinstatement

Then in 1956 in Ulm a man named Bernard Fischer-Schweder sued in the labor courts to be reinstated as head of a refugee camp. There were complaints that he had "behaved like an SS man" which he had been, in fact but had concealed.

As the papers made their way through Baden - Wuertemberg's Ministry of Justice they passed through the hands of a German woman who had fled from Mermel on the German-Lithuanian border.

"How was it possible that such a man could ask for reinstatement?" she wanted to know. Fischer - Schweder had been police director in Mermel and was a very questionable type. As a matter of administrative routine a state's attorney named Erwin Schuele was asked to check.

Schuele, a combat officer on the Eastern front and a prisoner of the Soviets for five additional years, was shocked by the disclosures of his research. It grew into the first full scale inquiry by a German court of the infamous SS "action groups," the organized experts in murder.

Sentenced to Prison

In the end Schuele tracked down nine other members of the murder squad to which Fischer Schweder had been attached in the Tilsit region and enough witnesses to convict all 10. Fischer Schweder was sentenced to 10 years and two of the others to 15 years.

The jolt to the German public was considerable. This was not the "propaganda" of the conquerors but a German proceeding before a German court. Most of the German newspapers reported it in detail.

Nuremberg trials, extraditions to other countries, individual cases in the German courts obviously had not covered the ground as some Germans may honestly have believed and many others certainly hoped.

There was an uneasy, disturbing realization that a great deal remained to be done about the core problem of organized Nazi crime, as opposed to the criminal excesses of individuals, and that some central clearing house for information was essential if this problem was to be tackled adequately.

Baden-Wuerttemberg's minister of justice, Wolfgang Hausmann, proposed to the justice ministers of the other German states that they set up such an agency by mutual agreement and share its cost.

The "Central Office" began its operations here on Dec. 1, 1958, with Schuele as its head. For the last three years his deputy has been Klaus Werner.

The first step was a methodical survey of all the available information and much of this was discovered still to be in allied hands. Schuele, for example, brought back from a single trip to the United States microfilm of 10,000 pages of carefully selected documents previously unknown here.

From the beginning the effort was to locate men who exercised command functions or responsibilities. German law recognizes an element of duress for subordinates, although this concept has been steadily narrowed in recent trials.

Procedure, Outlined

Special details were established by the criminal police in each of the German states to seek out suspects and witnesses. As each case or "complex" began to take shape it was turned over to a state's attorney, usually in the district where the principal suspect lived, who prepared the actual prosecution.

Altogether about 150 officials of state courts and ministries of justice are engaged full-time in this effort. The normal case requires about three years from beginning to end.

Not all of the individuals discovered in this process have been as anonymous as Alois Haeferle. Twelve men presently are on trial in Koblenz for the systematic destruction of thousands of people in the region of Minsk.

The principal defendant, Georg Heuser, 49, was chief of the criminal police of the state of Rhineland-Pfalz at the time of his arrest in 1959. Heuser in a curious statement to the court said he felt himself to be "partially guilty."

Another of the defendants had assumed his dead brother's identity and remained his own wife. His own children knew him as their "uncle."

Banker Sentenced

Martin Fellenz, a member of the city council in Schleswig is now on trial in Flensburg. Inquiries begun here showed him to have been the adjutant to the SS police commander in Krakow in Poland.

Albert Filbert, a bank official in Berlin was sentenced recently to life for his role with the action groups.

Much of the testimony as it is reported in the German newspapers is not exactly breakfast table reading. Details change but the central theme of horror and brutality, already portayed at Nuremberg and in the Adolf Eichmann trial in Jerusalem, is constant.

One recent morning, in the midst of the holiday preparations, the newspapers reported from Koblenz the story of a Jewish girl who was burned alive shackled to a mass bier of other bodies.

The news diet promises to be even more horrible in 1963. All the major "death camps" will figure in group trials.

Officials of Belzec will face a court in Munich.

In Dusseldorf there will be trials of officials both of Treblinka and Sobibor camps. Treblinka was the fiery grave of an estimated 300,000 to 350,000 Warsaw Jews.

The biggest of all the scheduled trials will be that of Auschwitz personnel in Frankfurt with 27 or 30 defendants. This is one of the few such cases that was initiated before the establishment of the "central office" here.

Inquiry here has shown a close tie between the people involved in the initial Euthanasia program for destroying the mentally and physically deficient in Germany itself and the greatly expanded program for killing millions of Jews and eastern Europeans.

The euthanasia program as such concern about the impending fight to increase the membership of the House Rules Committee from 12 to 15. They also gave his analysis of why a President who rates high in public opinion polls can have great difficulty with Congress.

Kennedy concedes his entire program is lost if the 12-member Rules Committee isn't expanded to head off control by a conservative coalition and to give it a bias favoring his legislation. This committee clears bills for action on the floor.

A president can do little or nothing to injure a high-seniority Congress member answerable to his own district. Also the prestige of a popular president goes far on issues of national security but on more controversial questions, the president looks more like a party manager or pleader for special causes.

Tax Cut Outlook

So far as taxes are concerned this was the picture provided by unimpeachable sources.

Kennedy believes the unemployment rate will climb above 6 percent if his program is not accepted by Congress. But if the legislators give their approval, he expects the rate to be held close to 5 percent and perhaps below that.

The President is particularly concerned because war babies are flooding the labor market at a time when payroll-slashing automation is gaining wide acceptance.

Tough Fight Indicated

The peak unemployment rate of the 1960-61 recession was 6.9 percent in March 1961. The November her rate was 5.8 percent compared with a 1962 low of 5.3 percent in July.

Kennedy believes his tax bill will face very tough going. Even so it has powerful support from important business and labor union spokesmen, who concur with the President's argument that high taxes act as a drag on economic growth.

On the other side, congressional conservatives worry about the nagging impact of a tax cut on a federal deficit that—even if the bill does not pass—is expected to run about $6 billion in the new fiscal year that begins next July 1.

Other Major Issues

Kennedy is much concerned too, about other controversial issues in his legislative package, notably aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security. Both have failed to pass two years running and an effort will be made in 1963 to "make them more palatable" or, in the words of one official, to make their friends rather than their enemies.

Despite this effort, it is doubtful that Kennedy entertains much optimism about the chances of passage.

In one sense, these two measures figure prominently in Kennedy's thinking because he blames them for the talk that, a president, he hasn't been tremendously successful with Congress.

He feels that the shelving of education and medical care bills have distracted attention from favorable action on such major programs as first-step tax reform, tariff-cutting authority, a higher minimum wage, the Peace Corps, the Alliance for Progress, the disarmament agency, and to dependent children, drug legislation and others.

But no catalog of favorable action can quite erase the nagging doubts about presidential influence in an independent-minded Congress.

Kennedy points out to friends, for example, that in 1961—during the honeymoon period following his inauguration—the administration succeeded in temporarily increasing the House Rules Committee by a vote of only a 217-212, even though the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., put his personal prestige on the line.

As the President looks ahead to the 1963 session, he wonders how much better he can possibly be when this was the extreme under what circumstances were the best of circumstances.

Helped Trade Program

But when Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, stepped aside, it was Kerr who carried the ball much of the time to smashing Senate victory for the president's trade program.

The death of Kerr left uncertain the sponsorship and the fate in the senate of Kennedy's forth coming tax reduction program.

With Byrd having made it clear he opposes Kennedy's plans for a tax cut without accompanying reductions in spending, administration leaders had hoped to enlist Kerr on their side again, although he, too, had expressed reservations. Sen. Russell V. Long, D-La., ranking Democrat behind Kerr on the Finance Committee, often does not agree with the administration fiscal proposals.

Kerr's death also opens the chairmanship of the new but increasingly important Senate Space Committee Sen. Chilton P. Anderson, D-N.M., may be in line for the job—if he chooses to give up his chairmanship of the Interior Committee.

In Washington, Kerr earned a reputation as a skilled debater, one who hit hard and for keeps. He did his homework, especially on fiscal matters, and could expose or ridicule the testimony of many an expert witness.

Back home Kerr was known as the man who brought home the bacon. Oklahomans enjoyed his slashing wit, but even more they admired his seemingly unerring ability to get the money for one of his pet issues—water projects for a state which often suffered from flood to drought in a year's time.

Kerr unashamedly said on several occasions "I'm against any combine Oklahoma isn't in on." As ranking Democrat on the Senate Committee on Public Works, he saw to it that Oklahoma projects got the money they needed. An ex-roster from an oil state, he was equally unconcerned by criticism that his stands in favor of the petroleum industry amounted to a conflict of interest.

One of the few modern day politicians who could legitimately claim log cabin beginnings, Kerr was born to pioneer parents near the south central Oklahoma community of Ada. He served in World War I, studied law in Ada, then moved into the oil business and eventually accumulated a fortune.

First Native Governor

To his death he was an active partner in the sprawling Kerr-McGee Industries, Inc., including oil, uranium, and vanadium. He had interests in several television stations. His personal wealth was estimated at $35 million to $50 million and included a $600,000 shoreplace ranch and home near Poteau in the rugged hills of eastern Oklahoma. On it was the world's biggest herd of prize Angus cattle, 7,800 head.

In 1948 Kerr became Oklahoma's first native son governor. He was elected to the Senate in 1948. In 1952 he campaigned for the Democratic nomination for president, but was well back in the pack at the Chicago convention.

He figured the venture cost him and his friends a quarter of a million dollars, but the defeat didn't bother him. "I've drilled dry holes that cost me a lot more from which I had less fun," he once said.

A teetotaler and non-smoker, he was an active member of the Baptist Church, giving 30 per cent of his considerable income to church activities plus heavy endowments to educational institutions of all denominations.

His wife and one son, Breesee, were in Washington at the time of his death. Two other sons, Robert Jr. and William, and his daughter, Mrs. Lowell Clark, arrived from Oklahoma City Tuesday night along with his business partner, Dean McGee, and Mrs. Aubrey Kerr of Ada, a sister-in-law.

Keeping of Expense Diary Began Jan. 1

Taxpayer Who Expects to Claim Business Costs Must Keep Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before bedtime on this first business day of the new year, several million Americans will be jotting down entries in a brand new 1963 expense diary.

Many are grumbling about this daily ritual inflicted on them by Congress and the Internal Revenue Service.

Comparatively few know, at this stage, exactly what's expected of them under the new law passed last year. Mortimer M. Caplin, called "reasonable and practical." He also says it is "quite demanding" — still enough to "make expense account living a thing of the past."

But it isn't short or simple. Its 2,000 words of technical text, plus 2,000 words of supporting orders, explanations and examples, probably will enrich a generation of tax lawyers.

WASHINGTON — expense accounts last, sub 14 grad, fixing overtime:

Only one out of ten is affected — the one who claims T & E deductions on his income tax returns. The interest of the other nine taxpayers centers in their curiosity to know how the other tenth lives and what the government is doing about it.

The whole upheaval was caused by the government's decision to protect the interests of the nine — those who couldn't cry "it's deductible" as they ordered a yacht or a fresh round of martinis.

These, the great majority of taxpayers, were in effect footing the bill for the swimming pools, sunshine cruises, country club memberships, and a lot of fancy food and drink consumed by members of "expense account society."

Small Minority
Quite probably the abuses were committed by a small minority. But Commissioner Caplin says the Treasury will recoup at least $100 million a year, and probably a lot more, of tax revenue which has been draining away through the expense account loophole.

New all businessmen and corporations, including the commission, must submit a new record of the business and its expenses, and keep a separate record of the business and its expenses.

Just what this paperwork will cover still isn't definite. The IRS is writing still more rules and will issue the next batch of regulations in February.

For a starter, here are basic guidelines:

No Ceiling
There is no arbitrary ceiling on travel or entertainment costs — you can deduct them if you can prove them. But they must be "directly related" to a business purpose, not just a general bid for business good will.

Most taxpayers needn't worry. Only one out of ten is affected — the one who claims T & E deductions on his income tax returns. The interest of the other nine taxpayers centers in their curiosity to know how the other tenth lives and what the government is doing about it.

The whole upheaval was caused by the government's decision to protect the interests of the nine — those who couldn't cry "it's deductible" as they ordered a yacht or a fresh round of martinis.

These, the great majority of taxpayers, were in effect footing the bill for the swimming pools, sunshine cruises, country club memberships, and a lot of fancy food and drink consumed by members of "expense account society."

Small Minority
Quite probably the abuses were committed by a small minority. But Commissioner Caplin says the Treasury will recoup at least $100 million a year, and probably a lot more, of tax revenue which has been draining away through the expense account loophole.

New all businessmen and corporations, including the commission, must submit a new record of the business and its expenses, and keep a separate record of the business and its expenses.

Just what this paperwork will cover still isn't definite. The IRS is writing still more rules and will issue the next batch of regulations in February.

New Year Greeted With Merriment by Elks

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liethen and Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaSalle enjoyed their evening as they waited for the old year to end and the new one to be born. Mr. LaSalle, perhaps a trifle impatient at the waning minutes, gave a tentative toot on his horn, practicing for the real thing below. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deprez, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ebben and Robert Besch gave their all toward greeting the New Year. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ornstein, committee members at the Elks Club New Year's eve party, entered the club for the evening of dining, dancing and merriment. The stroke of midnight was greeted with the calls of good wishes for 1963 and the joyful noise of horns and "Auld Lang Syne."

Hats and confetti and enough noise-makers to scare away any evil spirits who might have ventured abroad on Happy New Year's Eve were used by members of Elks 337, their wives and friends Monday evening at the club.

The gala year-end and year-beginning party started with a buffet dinner, served from 8 to 11 p.m. Dancing was held in the ballroom until 2 a.m. and an early morning breakfast was served, beginning an hour after midnight.

Members of the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaSalle and Mr. and Mrs. William Gmeiner, co-chairmen, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grossman, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hass, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deprez, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ornstein, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wordell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mittelestadt and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Armbruster.

Those Who Attended the New Year welcome at the Elks Club Monday evening danced under an array of sparkling stars. A buffet dinner was served during the evening and a snack 'for the road' was enjoyed at 1 a.m.

College Classrooms Now Part of Women's Lives

BY JAMES SCOTTON

A new University of Wisconsin program has turned up hundreds of Wisconsin housewives who want the college classroom as well as the kitchen to play a part in their lives.

And the program has stirred the interest of scores of employers who see a new source of professional talent to fill long-vacant jobs.

"We didn't plan to be a placement agency," says Mrs. Kathryn F. Clarenbach, assistant dean of women in charge of the program. "But we seem to have had that function thrust upon us."

The aim of the 10-month-old program is to encourage older women to continue their education, both to enrich their family life and to prepare them for opportunities in the professional world.

The program has contributed to a 17 per cent increase in the enrollment of women over 24 years old on the Madison campus this semester, twice the general enrollment rise. Almost half of this group of 821 women are married.

Scores of interviews and hundreds of questionnaires have shown that many more older women are interested in returning to college.

Many of these women want to hold down a professional job and do something," said Mrs. Clarenbach. "To get them to make the effort to come back to college for advanced training, we have to point to positions where their training can be used professionally."

Professional Jobs Await

The program was barely underway when it became apparent that these women would find professional type jobs waiting in many fields. As soon as employers heard of the program, they descended upon Mrs. Clarenbach's office with a steady stream of job offers.

"We've had scores of requests to fill every type of professional job in fields ranging from astronomy to radio broadcasting," Mrs. Clarenbach said. "Employers look ed on our files as an unequalled source for professionally talented women."

In recent months Mrs. Clarenbach's office has located administrative, research and teaching personnel for educational institutions for the YWCA, a county guidance clinic, and the State Department of Public Instruction.

A check through the files and public announcements turned up 127 qualified substitute teachers to relieve a serious shortage in the Madison school system.

At request of state officials women with advanced degrees in a number of fields are being sought to staff new facilities at the Wisconsin Central Colony at Madison.

The opportunities for women revealed by these employer requests has prompted a one-day conference on "Professional Opportunities for Women." It is scheduled for late February at the Wisconsin Center on the UW Madison campus.

"Wisconsin and the nation are critically short of brainpower," said Mrs. Clarenbach the holder of three college degrees herself. "We can hardly afford to ignore the three million women college graduates in the nation who could make a professional contribution."

Part-Time College

Although the program tries to attract mothers with families back to college on a part time basis, Mrs. Clarenbach rejects any notion that these women are neglecting their family responsibilities.

"A woman is not abdicating her responsibility in taking time for her intellectual development," she said. "We think such a woman is becoming a better wife and mother."

Also rejected is the argument that these women eventually will be competing for jobs held by men with families to support.

Shortage of People

"Employment officials assure us that at the professional level the shortage is not in jobs but in people to fill them," Mrs. Clarenbach said.

The entire program was initiated by University Pres. Fred Harvey Harrington, long an advocate of a strong university program for older adults. Already being considered are similar programs carried on at points distant from Madison by the University Extension Division.

Statewide interest in the program was demonstrated last summer when 100 women from such cities as Appleton, Columbus, Janesville, Beaver Dam, and Portage attended a course on opportunities for women.

I iron organdy curtains well enough so that everyone who comes into the house comments on how lovely they look. My daughter won first prize in the school Halloween costume contest. She was a rose-

Knowing Opponents Helpful

Don't let anybody tell you that bridge is purely a scientific game. No matter how skillful you are, a certain amount of guesswork remains, and you'll do better in this area if you know something about people as well as something about cards.

When this hand was played a month or so ago in the national tournament in Phoenix, the scores were:

South Dealer	East	West	North
9	8	7	6
8	9	8	7
7	10	9	8

4	13	12	11
3	14	13	12
2	15	14	13

South: 10-7-6-5-4-3-2-1
East: 7-8-9-10-11-12-13-14
West: 6-9-8-7-10-11-12-13
North: 5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12

South won the club opening in his own hand and in most cases laid down the ace of diamonds to start the suit. This gave East two sure diamond tricks. If East had sense enough to switch to hearts, the defenders would get two diamonds and three hearts to defeat the contract.

Naturally, North was sure to point out that South could make the contract by leading a spade to dummy's ace and leading the first diamond from dummy. If East failed to play an honor, South could let dummy's ten of diamonds ride for a finesse.

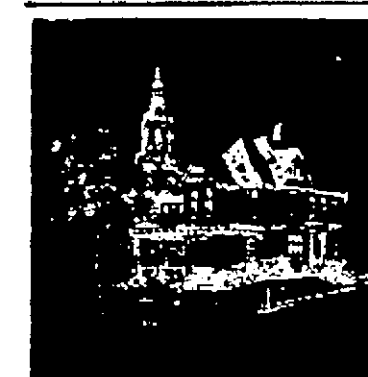

The trouble is that this play

Miss Inella Brendenbach

Judy Given Summer Rite Is Planned By Engaged Pair

A summer wedding is planned by Miss Judy Given and David E. Boldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boldt, 1918 W. Spencer St. The announcement of the engagement was made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Given, 1522 W. Prospect Ave.

The couple was graduated from Appleton High School. Miss Given is employed at the First National Bank. Her fiancé is a senior at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

South won the club opening in his own hand and in most cases laid down the ace of diamonds to start the suit. This gave East two sure diamond tricks. If East had sense enough to switch to hearts, the defenders would get two diamonds and three hearts to defeat the contract.

Naturally, North was sure to point out that South could make the contract by leading a spade to dummy's ace and leading the first diamond from dummy. If East failed to play an honor, South could let dummy's ten of diamonds ride for a finesse.

The trouble is that this play would lose if West rather than East happened to hold K-J-x of diamonds. How should South play the suit if he isn't gifted with 20-20 hindsight?

Apply Pressure

The best method is to put the pressure on West. Win the first club trick and lead a low diamond from the South hand. If West has K-x of diamonds he will not play his low card calmly and at a normal pace. He will either play his king at once or will think things over carefully before playing low.

In this case, of course, West would have no problem. He would play his low diamond, and declarer would finesse with dummy's nine.

After East has taken the jack of diamonds, declarer gets back to dummy and leads a diamond through East. When East plays low, South finesesses. The assumption is that West did not play low from K-x, and that East must therefore still hold the king.

This line of play isn't sure-fire, since it loses when East has the singleton jack, but no other way of playing the suit is as good.

Miss Louise Davis

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

FORGETS APPOINTMENT

Dear Louise: I am mortified that I forgot to keep a luncheon appointment with a friend. When I telephoned to apologize, I was forgiven, but from the conversation, I detected that she is hurt. What can I do now? I don't want this to affect our friendship which I value highly. I feel awful.

Louise Davis Answers:

If your friend has a sense of humor, I suggest that you get in touch with her and invite her to be your guest at lunch or dinner, and remind her that you are "groveling" with remorse. Repeat how badly you feel that you let her down and ask for reassurance of her forgiveness. Humility goes a long way. Surely your friend knows that such a thing happens to most of us at least once in a lifetime. Perhaps you might consider sending her flowers if you think that she is still annoyed, hurt or super sensitive. Your enclosure card could contain something like this, "Please accept these flowers as a peace offering."

Patterned Socks

Stockings with textural patterns as pronounced as sweaters are covering the shapely legs of feminine cyclists in Europe. The trend is expected to make its way over here.

The Ailing House Clean Off Lipstick

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Lipstick marks were scrawled over the marble walls in the entrance foyer to my building. How can these be cleaned off?

A: Scrape off as much of the lipstick as possible with a dull knife blade. Then cover the marks with a mixture of powdered whiting and a nonflammable liquid spot remover, placing thin plastic over the paste to retard evaporation; leave the doors open while working with the spot remover, to insure good ventilation. When dry, brush off and repeat treatment if necessary. For stubborn discoloration, wipe the area with a solution of six ounces of oxalic acid dissolved in a quart of hot water; allow to remain for about an hour, then rinse thoroughly with clear water.

Q: We are rearranging our kitchen floor cabinets and counters. This will affect the asphalt tile on the floor. Is there any way to remove the tile so that we can use it on another part of the floor?

A: Yes: Individual asphalt tiles can safely be removed by careful heating with an electric iron so that the adhesive underneath is liquified. Be sure to place a sheet of heavy wrapping paper between the tile and the iron first. The tile can be easily lifted up and will be unmarred, ready to be put down elsewhere.

Note: The other method of using dry ice, which loosens the adhesive through extreme cold, is apt to crack some of the tiles. So in this case, where it is desired to keep all of the tiles intact, rather than just removing them, this latter method is not recommended.

Q: Last year I painted my home with a supposedly high grade paint, but the past summer it appeared very chalky and even after scrubbing with auto soap and water, the chalk still rubs off. I wish to repaint the house

Heating Terms

If your heating vocabulary is out of date, here are some definitions that will help you. The word "hydronic," for instance, means that the heating system operates on hot water or steam. A "warm air system" sends filtered air throughout the house through ductwork in the walls. The ultimate in heating is to have a hear-round heating and cooling combination in one unit, or a cooling add-on to the heating system that comfort-conditions the house the year around.

Sharon Gutreuter Engagement Of Daughter Announced

The engagement of Miss Sharon Gutreuter and Michael A. Caldle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Caldle, 1223 W. Summer St., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gutreuter, 1904 N. Drew St.

The couple was graduated from Appleton High School. The bride-elect is employed at Grace's Apparel, Airman Third Class Caldle is stationed with the Air Force at Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb.

A wedding date has not been set.

and am wondering if it is advisable to paint over this chalky paint or if it should be removed (and how?)

A: Some paints are deliberately designed to chalk. This type of wearing off permits rain and rinsing to carry accumulated dirt away with the chalky surface deposit. In other words, don't be concerned about the chalky effect on your house; that's natural. For repainting, merely give a good rinsing, with brushing on any stubborn areas, and repaint when dry.

British Outcries Against Polaris Short-Lived

Defense Minister Assures Bomber Force Enlargement

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

LONDON—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has started the good year 1963 auspiciously by puncturing opposition within his own Conservative party to the "Polaris for Skybolt" agreement reached with the United States at Nassau just before Christmas.

Under this agreement the British agreed to forego their previous plan to equip their bomber force with American Skybolt stand-off missiles and to rely instead on Polaris missiles, fired from nuclear powered submarines similar to those now used by the United States.

The decision caused a loud if short-lived outburst of indignation here in Britain because it appeared to threaten the end of Britain's bomber force and thereby the existence of a comparatively independent nuclear deterrent.

Most of the indignation evaporated quickly when Minister of Defense Peter Thorneycroft met a 13-man delegation of Conservative members of Parliament yesterday and assured them that the British bomber force would be enlarged and maintained in being despite the Polaris plans.

40 Bombers

The assumption is that the government will build approximately 40 more Vulcan Mark II bombers, which were originally due to carry the Skybolt, and will furnish them with improved versions of a British-made stand-off missile, the Blue Steel. This missile now has a range of between 100 and 200 miles, which would not allow it to be used by subsonic bombers of the British type from a safe distance outside the main Russian anti-aircraft defenses. But there now appear to be plans to step up its range to between 500 and 800 miles.

Thus, according to British defense correspondents, might permit the British bomber force to remain operationally effective until the early 70s, when Britain's own Polaris submarine fleet is expected to be operational.

The gap may also be partly filled by the British Aircraft Corp.'s TSR-2 tactical strike-reconnaissance plane, a supersonic aircraft designed to hug the ground so closely that it cannot be followed by enemy radar.

Foreign aviation experts are skeptical about these expectations because they both depend upon the ability of the British to develop and produce highly complicated missiles of the same type as the Skybolt, which the United States has abandoned as too complicated for present-day production and operational techniques.

Finance Unit In Legislature Gets New Chief

Walter Hollander May Move Up as Head of Committee

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Sen. Walter Hollander of Fond du Lac County, a 30-year veteran of local government affairs who came to the legislature six years ago, may move into the chairmanship of the powerful legislative joint finance committee when the 1963 legislative session begins next week.

The chairmanship of the committee that has become more critical in its responsibilities because of the looming financial crisis in the state government was opened up when Sen. W. A. Draheim of Neenah, chairman since 1958, decided to give it up. Draheim explained that the burdens of his private affairs are in conflict with the heavy work schedules of the committee that handles all appropriations bills and is responsible also for the drafting of revenue legislation that will be the center of politics and public interest in the new legislature.

No Announcement

The senate committee on committees, which has the power to organize the senate, has not yet announced its major committee nominations, but it is understood to be interested in giving the finance committee leadership to the 86 year old legislator from Rosendale.

Assemblyman Glen Pommerening of Wauwatosa will be the assembly leader on financial matters, and will be co-chairman of the committee.

Hollander is 66, has been head of the Fond du Lac county board for the last decade, and a member of his town and county board for three decades. He farmed for most of his life, and is generally regarded as a conservative in his views.

First Complete Revision of Commercial Code Seen Soon

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The first complete reworking of the commercial law code of the state has been finished after three years of labor and study by a battery of legal and commercial specialists and leading members of the legislature. It will be submitted for the approval of the new legislature next week.

The voluminous bill, which in physical size is likely to be the largest in the new legislature, is a part of a national drive to put commercial law in the states in clear, modern and easily understandable form. About 15 of the other states have recently revised their commercial codes of laws in the same way.

Committee Project

The Wisconsin revision job was undertaken by a committee headed by Richard Cates, a member of the legislature of 1959 who has since retired to private law practice, and including other leading members of the legislature, bankers, house counsel of principal Wisconsin corporations, finance companies, commercial organizations, agricultural groups and others directly affected.

The original impetus to the Wisconsin revision campaign was provided by the late John C. Wickham of Beloit, who as a member of the state supreme court more than a decade ago worked as a member of a national study group which promoted a modernization of commercial law.

The authors emphasized in their letter of transmittal to the legislature that their purposes were confined to achieving a clearer, more modern and more easily administered code of law governing commercial and financial relations.

Not 'Social'

"The code is not 'social legislation,'" they said. "It does not take sides between creditors and debtors, buyers and sellers, or banks and finance companies. It seeks rather to facilitate all business by incorporating modern practices and by making the governing law easier to understand, more modern, and more uniform.

The Wisconsin code will be among the first in this part of the country, if it is enacted by the new legislature. Only Illinois in the Middle West has thus far achieved comparable commercial code revision, according to the Wisconsin drafting committee.

U. S. Pumping Dollars Into Caribbean Island

BY ROBERT E. BOTS

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The United States is going all out to make the Dominican Republic a "showplace of Democracy" in the troubled Caribbean.

We're pumping dollars into the little country three times faster than to the rest of Latin America.

Already, we have loaned or given the recently liberated Dominicans nearly $75,000,000 in assistance for everything from a new bridge to surplus rice to 65 Peace Corps volunteers.

That works out to roughly $22 per Dominican in the last year. By way of comparison, our billion-dollar-a-year alliance for progress averages only $7 per Latin American in U.S. aid.

Negotiations are under way for another $65,000,000 Dominican loan to be concluded by June.

Juan Bosch, the Dominicans' first freely elected President in 33 years, is due in Washington today to discuss his country's hopes for continued U.S. support.

Bosch isn't expected to bring a shopping list for additional millions in aid.

But he will confer with President Kennedy and Alliance for Progress co-ordinator Theodore Moscoso about existing and proposed projects.

The United States has a large stake in the success of the Dominican experiment.

The country lies half way between Communist Cuba and free Puerto Rico. It could go either way.

The United States started its Dominican aid program with a $25,000,000 emergency credit almost as soon as the people shook off the remnants of the Rafael Trujillo dictatorship last winter.

Most of that money has been used on projects like low cost housing, livestock and poultry improvement, farm-to-market roads, agricultural credit and training, reforestation, roads, bridges, schools and even a computer for the country's new census bureau.

Since then, the U.S. foreign aid agency has made:

$27,500,000 in grants to the Dominican government for a variety of civic projects, such as schools, roads, housing and farm improvement.

$2,100,000 in loans to start a savings and loan system for low-cost housing.

The Agriculture Department has provided $10,000,000 in surplus farm products through the Food for Peace program.

The Peace Corps has sent 65 volunteers to work on farms and teach school at a cost of $750,000.

The export-import bank has loaned $3,400,000 to the Dominican Electricity Corp. And $1,000,000 to the Industrial Development Corp.

The Inter-American Development Bank has made a $3,000,000 farm credit loan.

Keep Home Free From Accidents

Some classes of home accidents have decreased in frequency, but for the person injured or disabled in the home, this is small consolation.

There are two things that cause accidents: unsafe conditions and unsafe actions. One or the other is dangerous. A combination of the two is almost sure to cause trouble. A regular safety check of the house and yard may show up danger spots. Repairing them is good insurance.

Falls inside or outside the house figure in a large proportion of accidents. They can be caused by a broken step or torn carpet, a wrinkled throw rug or poor lighting. A loose or nonexistent railing may contribute to home accident potential.

Slippery floors are a common

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. Only parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it.

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

and unnecessary hazard. Spilled liquids should be cleaned up immediately. Wood floors should be finished with non-slip wax. Concrete should have a roughened surface, especially on walks exposed to rain or snow.

Plenty of convenient storage space can be a big help in saving bruises or broken bones. But it must be used. Skates in the hall, a pail on the steps can cause a tumble, whether kept there through carelessness.

Accumulated clutter is dangerous in several ways. It may produce a fire through spontaneous combustion, it may feed a fire started elsewhere. Only or waxy rugs should be disposed of immediately. Flammable products should be stored in closed fireproof containers away from heat and a fire extinguisher should be quickly available.

Check Wiring
House wiring and appliance connections must be properly installed and kept in good condition. Overloaded wiring may start a fire. Frayed cords may cause fire or death by electrocution. Heating systems should be checked out yearly for proper and safe functioning.

Poisoning through swallowing or inhalation can be avoided by keeping household chemicals in clearly labeled containers, in a safe place, by reading the instructions in a good light, and following them exactly.

If in spite of precautions an accident occurs there should be a complete first aid kit handy and someone who knows how to use it. A list of emergency telephone numbers should be posted by the telephone and instructions for emergency treatment of poisoning in the bathroom and kitchen.

Decorative Doors

Where two doors are inconvenient, four doors should be worse—but in Mrs. R. B. J.'s living room, they solve a problem. Wide French doors on a single wall at one end of the room were removed soon after remodeling that turned the sun room beyond into a snug family room.

Mrs. J. couldn't decide which bothered her more—doors out of step with the living room style and in the way—or no doors at all to separate family room hubbub from living room quiet.

From what you say about the family room's popularity with your active children and their friends, Mrs. J. doors are decidedly needed. But they needn't swing wide toward the end wall to make it awkward for the sofa nor against the side walls to crowd other furniture. Install two doors in each doorway. Pairs swing only half as far as a single door of the same width. Also pairs of doors can be extra handsome. These suggested making them an important room decoration in a deep and perhaps bright color from the room's color scheme, trimmed with striking pulls.

Mrs. K. G.: "Our 14-year-old daughter has always been crazy about horses, and cluttered her room with their pictures and objects relating to them. Now that the room must be done over, I hope for an effect that's more suitable to a young lady, although I know it can't be the pink and white canopy bed type of style so many other girls like. What would you suggest to her to replace battered knotty pine furniture, and a plaid bedspread with matching curtains? What new color for her beige walls?"

Although your daughter may not be enchanted by the delicately feminine, she can't reasonably object to modern walnut furniture against white walls. Why not make these most necessary changes and let her keep whatever she likes until she herself wants other changes which may be soon?

A Lovelier You

Energy Rechargers

If you feel a bit listless today draughts of fresh air. After a week of Spartan living, you'll be back in your stride.

The regimen, however, makes no promise to energize people who are perpetually fatigued and lethargic. There are many of them you hear countless numbers say, "I'm always tired and I don't know why."

There are almost as many reasons "why" as there are individuals with an energy problem. And, if you have one, it behooves you to find the cause. For vitality conditions one's appearance, accomplishment and enjoyment of life.

The obvious first step to a solution is a medical check-up. It may not turn up the answer, though since perfectly well people can suffer constant fatigue.

The second step is an analysis of your health habits. Does your diet emphasize protein and vitamins? Is your weight normal? Do you get sufficient sleep? (You may need less than you think.) Do you take regular exercise?

Try Bare Look for Pavement

Homemakers who live in the snow belt states can help their families get through the winter with less chance of accidents and injuries if they adapt the modern "bare pavement" highway maintenance measures to their own homes.

Here's how the experts do it:

"No" answers are clues to the lack of drive. For another, examine your living patterns. Are you bored or pressured or both most of the time? Either attitude triggers exhaustion. The only remedy is a new interest. When the mind is filled with fresh ideas, there is less room for tedium. And freed from its drain you build up a reservoir of vitality.

Reduce without starving! Send for my purse-sized booklet "Diet and Live It," which includes shortcuts to dieting, a calorie calculator, simplified menu planning, your model weight. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing 20 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If possible, spread salt just as soon as the first snowflakes begin to fall. Sprinkle about one-fourth pound of salt per square yard of surface. (About one handful per square of sidewalk.) In light snow fall this may eliminate the need for shoveling. In heavier snow the brine prevents the snow from bonding to walk or drive.

In a continued snowfall, spread a second application of salt after the snow accumulates to a depth of two or three inches.

Before shoveling, wait until the salt has honeycombed the snow and the brine has spread out between the snow and the pavement. This lets the snow shovel glide under the snow.

Save your heart and energy by taking small shovelfuls. Don't overload the shovel when the snow is wet and heavy. Spread another light application of salt after the walks and drives are cleared. This prevents an icy glaze from forming when temperatures drop.

As a final note, always carry emergency equipment such as tire chains, small shovel and a bag of salt in the trunk of the car. A few handfuls of salt applied at the rear wheels for traction can be a time and chillsaver when stuck on slippery ice at the curb. This may be a life-saver when stranded on ice in some dangerous intersection or hilly area.

Hell Hath No Fury ... Police Find After Woman Raises Havoc

Appleton police were called New Year's Day to answer a complaint in which an Appleton woman went to another woman's home where her former husband was spending the holiday and:

Punched her fist through a window pane in the rear door, shattering the glass;

Drove her car into the rear of her former husband's car when he would not answer the door;

Smashed her former husband's car into the garage door, damaging the door and the car;

Stood by while her former husband notified a wrecker service to pull the two cars apart.

Appleton police said no arrests were made in the complaint but advised the former husband to contact the district attorney to make a formal complaint.

The incidents occurred about 2:30 p.m., police said.

Three Hurt In Neenah Auto Crashes

NEENAH — One Neenah man was hospitalized and two Menasha women sustained minor injuries in a two-car collision at 3:15 a.m. Tuesday here at the intersection of North Commercial and High Streets.

Taken to Theda Clark Hospital for treatment of head lacerations was Verne V. Monty, 51, 318 Church St., Neenah, driver of a car which struck the rear of an auto operated by William O. Hoks, 28, route 2, Menasha.

Receiving minor injuries were Arlene Fritsch, 39, route 2, Menasha, a passenger in the Monty car and Betty Hoks 21, 964 Williams St., Menasha, a passenger in the other car. The Fritsch woman received a bump on the forehead while the latter complained of a sore neck and head.

According to a hospital spokesman, Monty was released Tuesday noon.

Two Other Accidents

No apparent injuries were noted by Neenah police following two auto mishaps here Monday. Minor damage was done to the four cars involved.

The Monday mishaps occurred at 4:15 p.m. when a car driven by Frank J. Sweetalla, 29, 961 Gail Ave., Neenah, skidded into the path of an auto operated by Aloysius J. Sanderfoot, 31, Hortonville, near the intersection of North Lake and Main Streets; and at 8:15 p.m. when an auto driven by John Francis Hauser, 18, 325 12th St., Neenah, struck a parked car owned by Dr. Robert F. Douglas, 31, 117 N. Commercial St., Neenah, near the intersection of E. Forest Avenue and Fourth Street.

Pump Too Big, So Appleton Has To Buy New Unit

You have heard the one about the guy who built a boat in his basement and ...

Well, the City of Appleton has found itself in a similar predicament.

The council's street-sanitation committee had intended to purchase a sewage sludge pump and motor for the present treatment plant but ... the unit was too big and crews couldn't get it into the basement.

"It just wouldn't fit, so I guess we will have to get a different type of a unit," Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe said the committee.

So, the committee decided to cancel an order for the pump and motor which it had intended to purchase from Crane Engineering Sales, 1110 W. Wisconsin Ave., for $9,000.

The committee plans to advertise for bids this time for a unit that will fit into the building.

Retailers Ask Higher Fees in Closing Sales

Stiffer Ordinance Backed as Owners Say Law Too Lax

The Appleton Downtown Retail Association today considered proposals for a city ordinance that would increase the licensing fees and shorten the maximum time for closing out sales.

The committee will prepare a specific ordinance and present it for discussion before the association makes a definite recommendation to city officials.

Recommendations presented by Fred Kobussen, chairman of the committee, were to have fees of $50 for the first 15 days of the sale, an additional $100 for the second 15 days, and $30 per day for up to 15 more days. This would mean a maximum of 45 days and a maximum cost of $600.

The present city ordinance allows a maximum of 90 days and provides for fees of $25 for a 15 day sale, $50 for 30 days, $75 for 60 days, and $25 per day for up to 30 additional days, and a further fee of $1 per $1,000 of inventory at the beginning of the sale.

License too Low

Kobussen said under the present ordinance the length of the sales is too long, the licensing fees are too low, the definition of the sales is incomplete, and the ordinance tends to promote drawn-out sales. It is important that removal sales be included in the ordinance, he said.

Kobussen suggested that some method be worked out so that a small store will not have to pay as high a fee as a large store, and that the inventory charge be included in the proposed ordinance.

The purpose of the association's study of the closing out sale ordinance is to bring it up to date, clarify and strengthen it, said Giles Flanagan, executive secretary. The committee is studying state statutes and what other cities are doing in regard to closing out sales.

Will Take Time

Engineers say it will take from one to two years to plan the street project, including the installation of all new sewers.

The engineer is a representative of the W. T. Collings Engineering firm, Milwaukee, which supervised the construction of the city's first parking ramp and is mapping final plans for a second.

Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe suggested several weeks ago that the engineer be hired to obtain grade figures and other preliminary data in connection with every building presently located on College Avenue. Crowe and Mayor Mitchell told the council this work would have to be done no matter when a street reconstruction project is started.

In recent months there has been considerable informal talk by aldermen at council committee meetings concerning the College Avenue rebuilding. Some aldermen have been complaining that the street and curb is "breaking up" on the avenue and a casual inspection of the downtown area will bear this out.

Two Hurt When Car Hits Culvert

Five Also Injured When Car, Truck Collide on N

Two men were injured and taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital early New Year's morning after their car left Grand View Road in the Town of Ellington and collided with a concrete culvert about 3:40 a.m.

Injured were Donald E. Pratt, 29, route 1, Hortonville, driver of the car, and his passenger, Donald F. Lemke, 37, route 1, Hortonville. Pratt received head injuries and Lemke had leg injuries. Both are confined at the hospital.

Outagamie County police said Pratt may have fallen asleep before his car left the road.

Four children received minor injuries and were treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision with a truck on County Trunk K about 4 p.m.

Injured were Daniel Hietpas, 4, David Hietpas, 7, Lori Hietpas, 4, and LuAnn Hietpas, 20 months, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Hietpas, 523 Michael St., Kimberly.

The children's father was driving south on N toward Darboy when he was involved in a collision with a truck being driven north on N by John DeValk, 55, 402 E. Elm St., Kimberly. DeValk was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he is in good condition.

2 Neenah Men Plan to Build Lake Channel

OSHKOSH — Testimony was taken by examiner H. A. Lewis of the Public Service Commission at the courthouse here this morning on the application of two Neenah men for permission to build a waterway system off Lake Winnebago in the Town of Oshkosh.

Lynn Werner, president of two Neenah electrical firms, and Kenneth P. Wianac, a Neenah excavating contractor, plan to build three channels in a 90-acre plot between Island Point Road and Indian Point Road and to develop that area into 100 residential lots.

Werner testified on recent purchases of property in that area and the plans for residential development which would offer boat mooring facilities and access to Lake Winnebago for residents in that area.

Three channels are planned which would extend from the existing channel along Island Point Road. There also would be a channel connecting to the channel built earlier by George P. Navitnorth of the Indian Bay Road, he said.

College Ave. Rebuilding Gains Backing in Council

Appleton Mayor Tells Merchants They May Have to Use Back Doors Of Stores During Time of Work

The push for reconstruction of College Avenue — a project talked about in recent years but not included as yet in the capital improvement plans of the common council — is gaining momentum.

With the advent of 1963 came these developments:

A registered engineer hired recently by the city to work through the winter months is scheduled to start preliminary survey work this week on the avenue.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell suggested that College Avenue merchants had better start thinking of fixing up the rear entrances to their establishments because they will be doing most of their business through the back door once actual work is started on College Avenue.

V. I. Minahan, chairman of the Downtown Tomorrow Committee of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, wrote the mayor and common council a letter and said his group is willing to cooperate with city officials in developing some preliminary proposals in regard to redeveloping College Avenue.

Will Take Time

Engineers say it will take from one to two years to plan the street project, including the installation of all new sewers.

The engineer is a representative of the W. T. Collings Engineering firm, Milwaukee, which supervised the construction of the city's first parking ramp and is mapping final plans for a second.

Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe suggested several weeks ago that the engineer be hired to obtain grade figures and other preliminary data in connection with every building presently located on College Avenue. Crowe and Mayor Mitchell told the council this work would have to be done no matter when a street reconstruction project is started.

In recent months there has been considerable informal talk by aldermen at council committee meetings concerning the College Avenue rebuilding. Some aldermen have been complaining that the street and curb is "breaking up" on the avenue and a casual inspection of the downtown area will bear this out.

Plan Special Meeting

At present, the city only has a long-range capital improvement program to take it through 1963. The council is expected to have a special meeting sometime this year to map out a realistic program which would cover a five-year period and could conceivably include the College Avenue project.

Last week it was mentioned at

a meeting of department of public works officials that reconstruction of the entire College Avenue sewer system would have to be done in conjunction with rebuilding the street.

Mitchell has indicated he would like to get the College Avenue project going but says merchants should start making preparations

3 Injured In Crashes

2 From Kaukauna, Kimberly Man Hurt In Holiday Mishaps

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. Carl Johnson, 497 Foerster Ave., Kaukauna, complained of back injuries and told police she would see her family doctor after an accident at about 5 p.m. Monday on Main Avenue near the Chicago and North Western Railway crossing here.

Mrs. Johnson stopped her auto when she noticed a railroad flare burning at the crossing. An auto driven by James Kiffe, 17, 816 Grignon St., Kaukauna, collided with the rear of the Johnson auto.

Minor damage was reported to both vehicles.

Elected, Non-Elected Outagamie Workers' Pay Lower Than Average

Only Sheriff Rates Among Higher Paid

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Compared with counties of similar size salaries of elected officials in Outagamie County are below average.

Of the eight positions involved, only one ranks above the other counties — the sheriff's job. The Outagamie County sheriff's monthly base salary of $691.67 is higher than in most other counties paying on a salary basis. Some other counties, however pay "fees" in addition to salaries, which make exact income totals impossible to determine.

But the seven other elective positions — county clerk, treasurer, clerk of courts, register of deeds, superintendent of schools, judge and district attorney — have a composite salary beneath the norm established by 14 of the state's larger counties.

The Bureau of Personnel report does not compare salaries of coroners, who are paid by different methods. Some counties, such as Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca, pay on a $16 per day basis when the coroner is called. A few counties pay a straight salary and this means of payment is becoming more widespread.

During 1962, Outagamie County coroner's fees amounted to $1,944. In some counties of similar size which pay on a salary basis, these are the annual figures: Brown, $4,000; Racine, $4,000; Waukesha, $5,100; Kenosha, $2,800; and La Crosse, $2,400.

The 1962 summary by the department of administration listed the Outagamie County district attorney's salary at $683.33 a month. However the salary was raised by $600 a year two months ago, which brings the monthly figure to about $900.

Minimum High

District attorneys in other counties get as little as $600 per month (in Florence County) and as much as $1,200 a month (in Milwaukee County.) Some are part-time jobs.

Fourteen counties similar to Outagamie pay a salary which

These are the first two stories in a series of six written by Reporter Dick Lyneis comparing the pay of various Outagamie County employees with the pay of those holding similar jobs in other counties. The first stories deal with the salaries of elected officials and some appointed jobs. Others will discuss the pay of highway department employees, agriculture extension workers, county board members and the fringe benefits for various groups.

averages $768 per month. Some of the examples are Brown, $533; Dane $300, Eau Claire $883, Fond du Lac $700, Kenosha $944, Marathon, $306, Marinette $625, Ozaukee $633, Portage $700, Racine $730, Rock $725, Sheboygan $650, Waukesha $306 and Winnebago $600.

Two other counties in the Fox Cities area, Calumet and Waupaca, have part-time district attorneys. Calumet pays $330 and Waupaca $416.

The same 14 counties pay $568 average salary for the county clerk (compared to Outagamie County's $600 monthly salary), but

Appleton Youth Found Inside Variety Store

OSHKOSH — A 15-year-old Appleton boy was apprehended late Tuesday afternoon inside the W. T. Grant Store at Valley "Entry" in the Town of Menasha. The boy was gained by breaking a window, police said.

This was the sixth break-in at the Grant store in the last two months. Taken in the various break-ins were clothing items, pens, records and about $6 in change.

The boy was found after a search of the store by Winnebago County police after a report was received the store had again been entered. The boy is being questioned by county authorities.

Four Injured in Calumet Accidents

None Seriously Hurt in Mishaps During Long New Year's Weekend

CHILTON — Four youths suffered minor injuries in auto accidents investigated during the long New Year's weekend by Calumet County police.

An accident involving cars driven by James A. Jansen, 19, 142 Washington St., Kaukauna, and Dale J. Wierschke, 22, 409 Cleveland Ave., Little Chute, resulted in injuries to three Fox Cities Area youths.

The mishap occurred on State 114 about three miles east of Waverly Beach at 1:20 a.m. Sunday. Jansen told county police he was traveling west, noticed another car in the ditch, and was rammed from behind when he slowed to investigate. Wierschke said he wasn't able to stop in time after seeing the brake lights on Jansen's car.

Leg Injured

Maria Vander Heiden, 19, route 1, Menasha, suffered a bruised left leg, and Floyd Kieffer, 22, 4601 S. Wisconsin Road, Appleton, complained of injuries to both ankles. They were passengers in the Wierschke car. Jansen's passenger, Thomas Schmidt, 21, 1508 E. Main St., Little Chute, suffered a bump on the head. All were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Jerry Tegen, 21, route 1, Malone, suffered head injuries when the car in which he was riding, Appleton Postmaster Francis Sumnicht.

Horner's painting, "Breezing Up," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., is reproduced in full color in shades of brown and blue on the new stamp.

The stamp was issued at Gloucester, Mass., on Dec. 16. The Appleton Post Office has received 50,000 of the issue, which will remain on sale as long as the supply lasts.

The four-cent Christmas stamp has been removed from sale.

The post office also has five-cent stamps in sheets, coils of 100 and 500 stamps, and booklets of 20 stamps for use on and after Jan. 7. Eight-cent airmail stamps are available in booklets of 25 and coils of 400. Four-cent single and double postcards also are available.

4 Cent Homer Stamp Arrives

Christmas Delayed Delivery of Issue Depicting Painting

The Appleton Post Office today received its regular shipment of the Winslow Homer four-cent commemorative stamps.

Part of the Homer issue printing was held up because of the many printings of the Christmas issue and the supply of stamps for the new five-cent first class postage rate which begins Monday.

Many persons have inquired about when the post office would receive the Homer stamp, said Appleton Postmaster Francis Sumnicht.

Horner's painting, "Breezing Up," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., is reproduced in full color in shades of brown and blue on the new stamp.

Kremlin Pulls Fast One on Russians

BY SYLVIA PORTER

(Part of a two part series)

The Kremlin has pulled another fast one on the Russian people. Nikita Khrushchev wrapped up the Soviet's all-time record 1963 budget of $61 billion rubles in bright promises of more and better consumer goods, higher agricultural output, stepped up industrial production. But a breakdown of the actual budget figures—which have just become available here—reveals a startlingly different story.

The 1963 Soviet budget will do nothing to end grain shortages of food and clothing in Russia. It will do nothing to shift Soviet spending on heavy industry to light (consumer goods) industry. In fact, although the Kremlin has stopped revealing the ratio of spending on heavy industry versus light manufacturing, the informed estimate is that it is nine rubles for heavy industry to one for consumer goods.

The budget actually cuts appropriations for Russia's crippled farm economy. In the face of Khrushchev's repeated speeches about doing so much for agriculture, the percentage going for agriculture is down from 10 per cent in 1962 to 7 per cent in 1963.

Although the amount earmarked for industry is 26 per cent against 23 per cent last year, the total allocated to desperately needed housing still is less than a meager 5 per cent.

Spending
Question: How, then, will the $4 billion ruble difference between last year's budget of $2.7 billion rubles and this year's budget of $6.1 billion rubles be spent?

Answer: On hot war armaments and cold war efforts in the fields of education, propaganda and science.

"It is a Stalinist budget," concluded Dr. Ellsworth Raymond, professor in charge of Russian Area Studies at New York University and a long-time expert on Russian finances, in an interview.

"The emphasis is still on heavy industry and armaments at the expense of the civilian economy. The agricultural allotment not only is reduced but three-fifths of the appropriations go to state farms which have only one-third of the total acreage. The Russian leaders don't separate housing from 'industry spending,' because they are ashamed to say how badly they are doing in this area. They don't dare admit publicly the nine-to-one ratio of spending for heavy industry as against consumer goods."

Here, in the 1963 budget, is the hard proof that the Soviet system hasn't changed since Stalin's death.

It was Dec. 10 that Soviet Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov submitted the 1963 budget to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) amidst much shouting about the goals of more and better food and goods for the people. Raymond, however, refused to accept the published reports until "Pravda" arrived here with the detailed statistics and he could break them down for himself. What he finds is hardly what the Kremlin claimed.

For instance, Khrushchev frequently boasts the Soviet Union spends only about 16 per cent of its budget on defense while the United States spends more than half of its budget on defense. (The budgets simply are not comparable because the Soviet budget is the only budget in Russia, including all that would be in our state city and village budgets as well as the Russian equivalent of what we spend on private education and of what our industry spends on modernization and expansion of factories.

Khrushchev's claim is nonsense to begin with. Moreover, the Soviets hide their military spending by splitting up outlays among other sectors of their economy, and propaganda spending will be "Much of the science, education and propaganda spending will be for military needs, and this takes 16 per cent of the budget," Raymond emphasizes. "A good part of the 26 per cent earmarked for industry spending also will be for military needs. Industry spending includes subsidies for defense plants. Most of the scientists paid by the government are working on military projects."

Finally, the Soviet budget includes a category marked "secret" which accounts for 6 per cent of all spending. "There is where spending for rockets, H-bombs and military hardware is concealed."

Raymond estimates that at least half of the 1963 Russian budget will go directly or indirectly to the military.

The phoniness of the Russian budget is shocking in itself. It is particularly so this year because the Russian people have been led to believe that at last, the Kremlin is shifting some spending to raise their living standards. Even doesn't know it but he has been taken by his rulers again.

Tomorrow: Ivan also pays for almost the whole works.

Heart Association Suggests Resolutions for New Year

The Wisconsin Heart Association has urged adoption of the following New Year's resolutions:

"Resolved, that in 1964, I will get the regular exercise needed to improve my health."

The Association recommended this approach to exercise:

"1. Select a form of exercise compatible with your age and your physical condition."

"2. Choose the exercise you like. If you approach the subject of exercise with a grim and Spartan attitude, you're bound to fall by the wayside in a short time. The idea is to fit physical exercise (whether outdoor hiking or home calisthenics) into your daily routine and then add some weekly activities like bowling, roller-skating, swimming, tennis, golf or other in-season sports."

"3. Once you've worked out a reasonable schedule, try hard to let nothing interfere with it."

"4. Be prudent. If you haven't had much exercise since you left school, don't try to start where you left off. If your age and physical condition warrant a return to strenuous activities, work up to these exertions gradually by fairly moderate exercise."

"5. Do more walking and less riding. Unless the distance is too great, walk to work and walk when you go shopping."

"6. Begin your exercise routine with a walk to your doctor's office for a physical examination. He will tell you if some forms of exercise should be avoided."

"7. Finally, try that most difficult form of exercise, namely, pushing yourself away from the table to avoid obesity."

In the community, Cartier has worked on Red Feather fund drives and holds memberships in the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and Masonic Lodge. His professional affiliations include the Inland Duly Press and American Newspaper Publishers Association, Biochemical Division.

In tribute to his long years of service, more than 125 persons — business associates, friends and relatives — honored Cartier at a special Golden Anniversary dinner at North Shore Golf Club. This surprise for Cartier took place April 11, 1961, just 20 years after he began the absorbing career that started out as a "printer's devil" and ended in an executive's chair.

43 Years Spent at Post-Crescent; Plans to Live in California

After nearly 32 years in the newspaper business he entered as a young apprentice printer, M. E. Cartier retires today as vice president of the Post Publishing Co. and as business and production manager of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

His 43 years with the Post-Crescent reflect in great measure the growth of the newspaper founded in January, 1920, when the old Appleton Post and Evening Crescent were merged.

Cartier came from Green Bay as the mechanical superintendent of the new paper. He was boss of the "back shop" for 19 years until he was made production manager in 1939. He was appointed business manager in October, 1956, and was elected treasurer of tinued serving on the board in that capacity until February. He still will have a business desk at the Post-Crescent until he and Mrs. Cartier leave Appleton to make their home in California.

The lanky 15-year-old who left school in his native Green Bay to work for $3 a week for the old Green Bay Gazette has come a long way since then. His early training was in the composing room of the Gazette. When this paper and the Free Press joined forces in 1915, he stayed with the new Press-Gazette until enlisting in World War I. His war service years are the only ones away from newspaper work.

Author Views Russian, American Civilizations

The "new civilizations" of critic, looks over the respective America and Russia are both landscapes, which he toured, relished and singed in the pointedly, and with a sharp eye, personal, pleasantly provocative keen ear and silky-smooth style. new book, "The Antagonists" by Mervyn Jones, one of the new books on display this week at the Appleton Public Library. Jones, a sociologist and drama land of locked doors — censorship, arbitrary police power and withholding of information extend everywhere, while beneath the apparent freedom and democracy of America, money-grubbing dishonesty and platitudinous hypocrisy lie entrenched, he says.

In Russia sex is the big secret, in America the big noise, he says. Russians hungrily go to college, Americans only to fill up time in each land urban or rural planning tends more towards bureaucracy than beauty; shopping-wise America is a vast bazaar but Russia's state stores and state farms are generally always short of something; people of both nations view nuclear war with alternating boasts and fears.

Prefers Europe
What makes the Big Two? Self-sufficiency — both produce their own food, coal, iron, steel, oil and metals, Jones says. Will Russia outstrip our standard of living by 1970? Russia will be of the incompatible sets of values lucky if it equals Yugoslavia's standard of living by 1970, he answers. Where would author-tourist Jones like to live? In Europe, it is the old continent that wins his preference and that he believes will — through federation and the Common Market — rise again.

"Sand Pebbles," a corruption of San Pablo, is the nickname of the sailors who manned an ancient U.S. gunboat in Hunan Province, China, during the Kuomintang revolution of 1925-1927. This novel by Richard McKenna is the story of that crew as a whole — men who had grown soft and then were caught up in a bitter ideological war which would not permit them to do two things they can understand: kill or be killed.

Every man from the captain to the lowest coolie is drawn in detail with sympathy and understanding, but special emphasis is given one sailor, Jake Holman, a loner who has his private wars to win and lose against the broad canvas of China's grim awakening to nationalism, and who grows to learn that people can be as real as the machinery he loves.

Compares Favorably
Jake as a hero will inevitably attract comparison with the main characters of "From Here to Eternity." Just as the San Pablo story has parallels to "The Caine Mutiny." The comparison will not diminish this, since McKenna's first novel is a fine, bold, well-written book, inclusive and just in its concepts, memorable in character and incident, and fearless in its delineation of values held by the men on all sides (Chinese, missionaries and mercenaries as well as military men) who made the history on which it is based.

Also new is "Promises to Keep" by Agnes Dooley, a biography of her son, Dr. Tom Dooley.

Other new books which look at contemporary problems include "Anatomy of Automation" by George Amber, "Crime Without Punishment" by John McClellan, "The Atom: Friend or Foe?" by Charles Martin, "Dynamics of International Politics" by Norman Padelford, and "The City Dweller" by William Zinsser.

Fire Damages Storage Shed

KALIFALUNA — Firemen were called at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday to extinguish a fire in a small storage shed in an alley between Kanawha Avenue and Main Avenue. Fire damage was minor and it was believed to have been started by young people who placed stolen Christmas decorations against the shed and lit them. At 11:45 p.m. Monday firemen answered a false alarm to the Robert Mack residence, 122 McKinley St. The false alarm was received by phone.

Consumer With More Money May Find Some Bargains During '63

However, Pail of Unemployment Will Continue to Shade New Year

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The consumer may have more money to spend in 1963 with prices about the same and some bargains around if he looks for them.

But for some, jobs may still be the big problem it was in 1962, as they adjust to new methods of production, new ways of doing business, and are drawn into greater competition with the goods and methods of other nations.

Shortages of goods to buy are most unlikely and hence price stability is a better than even bet. Manufacturers are striving to bring out new products to tempt the consumer.

Here's the outlook for your job and pay, for the cost of eating, outfitting your family, buying and furnishing a home, getting a new car, meeting your tax bills:

Jobs — Unemployment will be as sticky as ever.

The highly skilled will find more opportunities in the new era opening up. And the services industries will employ more trained workers. But a larger force will keep the percentage of the jobless high. The unskilled or those with skills no longer needed will still need training to find work.

Personal incomes — The total should push to still another high.

Pay scale hikes already in the contracts will give some three million workers $1 billion more. Negotiations will affect about six million others. Dividend payments are due to rise a little. Income from interest payments will be about the same. Those offering services should get a bit more from slightly higher rates and fees. And if a federal tax cut is enacted, private after tax incomes could rise by $5 billion or more.

Living costs — Only a recession could halt the slow creep upward.

And even that brake might be slight. In fact, some fear that monetary inflation might send prices climbing at a higher rate. But most feel that competition among producers and distributors will continue keen and hold most prices pretty much in line.

Food — Except where weather

Rudolph Man Retires After More Than 50 Years at Consolidated.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — William J. Kohnen, route 1, Rudolph, current holder of the longest service record on the payroll at Consolidated Papers, Inc., retired Dec. 31 with more than 51½ years of service.

A Biron Division employee since June 22, 1911, Kohnen has been a machine tender for more than a quarter of a century. The year he started work at Biron was the same year Consolidated acquired the former Grand Rapids Pulp and Paper Co. mill with its two paper machines.

Only two of more than 4,500 Consolidated employees have over 50 years of service. Stanley F. Walczak of the company's Wisconsin River Division, Stevens Point, observed half a century of papermaking in March of 1962.

Heart Attack Ruled As Cause of Death

CHILTON — The death of Miss Anna Schroeder, 64, 210 E. Main St., who died Sunday, has been attributed to a heart attack. Calumet County Coroner LeRoy Hughes said today.

Hughes had ordered the autopsy to determine whether Miss Schroeder had died as a result of injuries in an auto accident Dec. 25.

are ample and prices fairly stable.

Some look for 1.4 million new homes to be built in 1963. But others report slow sales in some areas, and older homes harder to sell. Easing of interest rates reported in some areas in 1962 seems unlikely to be reversed. One question at year's end was how much, if any, new integration rules might affect sales and construction.

Services — Demand is still expanding but the rise in costs is slower.

High personal incomes feed the big demand for services of all types, and new ones are being offered. But in many lines competition now is growing. And here, where the cost of living was rising fastest, there is a slowdown in the increase of fees and rates and other charges. It's the new services, however, which you'll suddenly discover you want, that will clip your family budget.

Autos — Sales are high but the price line is being held.

The second good sales year in a row (a rare thing) seems in the making. But foreign competion and cost cutting in domestic production is holding prices of new cars steady. The number of used cars flooding the market is becoming a problem for dealers. This gives the consumer who wants a used car some bargaining leverage, but it makes it harder for you to get the allowance you want if you turn in your present chariot for a new car.

Taxes — A federal tax cut seems likely, but look out at home.

States and communities are under pressure to raise more money to furnish many public facilities. If times are prosperous and federal taxes are cut, some state and local governments may seek to raise taxes. Others may turn to debt financing — meaning more taxes later on.

Add it up — Still a consumer's year rather than a producer's one.

But demand is slowly catching up with production capacity and any big spending spree — spontaneous or spurred by government action — could put the seller back on even ground again.

Frostbite and Freezing Methods of Treatment

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

It should be obvious, but I know it isn't that physical condition is important in the matter of frostbite and freezing. We've harped at length, and perhaps to good effect, against sitting at desks who go out on weekends and try to play 36 holes of golf. After they get into condition, they can take such exercise.

It's the same with cold. Every hunting season we read about hunters who die of heart attacks. It isn't only the exertion. They overtax themselves because the body has to work harder to stay warm.

On the other hand, children and vigorous young people get frostbite because they don't recognize, or out of bravado, ignore the signs of freezing.

Numbness or loss of sensation is the first sign. When badly chilled flesh begins to feel comfortable or even give an illusion of being "warm," look out. This isn't a case of getting "a second wind" against the cold. It's the beginning of frostbite.

Frostbite, remember, is actual freezing. Particles of water in the tissues turn to ice.

First Visible Sign
The first visible sign is a waxy appearance. Deeper frostbite brings swelling, blue discoloration later turning gray, and then blistering.

Don't try to prick the blisters. Wait until a doctor can do so under sterile conditions, because the damaged flesh is vulnerable to infections which otherwise it would throw off.

If in the wilderness, rush the sufferer to real shelter. There's nothing to be gained by thawing him in a temporary one and then having him freeze again as you go on. The freezing, thawing and refreezing does far more damage.

than allowing him to remain frozen longer in the first place. A frozen hand can be tucked under an armpit, your own or someone else's, on the way. Frozen ears, noses, chins or cheeks (the other likeliest places, except feet) can be covered. But don't try to rub; you'll damage the flesh and accomplish nothing. Don't rub with snow. What the flesh needs is warmth.

With frozen toes or feet, get boots and socks off (gently!) once you reach shelter. Again, don't chafe or rub. And don't expose frozen flesh to hot, dry heat such as a stove or exhaust pipe.

Once in a cabin or house, you can speed thawing by soaking frozen toes or fingers in warm—not hot—water. It should not be above 110 degrees, which will feel mildly warm to you. Don't trust the victim's sense of warm or cold, because he can't tell.

And two more rigid rules. No smoking. The nicotine contracts the tiny surface blood vessels and restricts circulation where you most want to stimulate it.

No alcohol, at least until the victim is thawed. Again, it deranges the normal circulation patterns.

Don't drink alcohol before going out into the cold, or while in it. In severe or prolonged cold, the false "warming" of alcohol can lead to death, while non-drinkers survive the same exposure without harm.

Sore Tongue Cause
Dear Dr. Molner: What causes a sore tongue? My doctor finds no evidence of cancer.—B.V.J.

Here we go again! Cancer isn't the only disease in the world. It isn't even the most prevalent one. Faulty nutrition, with vitamin deficiency; allergy; various forms of infection; toothpaste; a jagged tooth—all these are common causes of sore tongue.

Note to L.S.: Beer is somewhat less likely to cause alcoholism, but, it can nevertheless.

once again "fees" are involved in nine counties, including neighboring Brown and Winnebago counties.

Brown County pays its county clerk $600 a month plus fees, while Winnebago's is $600 and fees. Once a gala Milwaukee County's $1,000 is the largest, while Sawyer County's $320 is the lowest.

Altogether, eight counties pay their clerks as much or more than Outagamie's $600. And of the state's 72 counties, 47 pay some "fees."

No Fees

Neither Waupaca nor Calumet counties pay fees and both are beneath Outagamie County in salaries. Calumet pays $548 and Waupaca pays $516.

Outagamie County pays its treasurer $625 per month, $2 a month over the same 14 county average. There are 15 counties in the state which pay as much or more.

Some of the examples are Milwaukee $1,016, Kenosha $618, Waukesha and Dane $600, Winnebago $500 and Brown $585. Marquette County, with $540, is the lowest. Waupaca County pays $490 and Calumet County $440.

Clerk of Courts

The clerk of courts in Outagamie County receives a $325 monthly salary which is $30 lower than the same average. Some other county clerk of courts salaries are Brown $585, Calumet $440, Dane $500, Dodge $550, Florence $155, Kenosha $618, LaCrosse $565, Manitowoc $490, Marathon $541, Milwaukee $1,167, Racine $541, Rock $591, Sheboygan $625, Waukesha $600, Waupaca $448 and Winnebago $515.

The register of deeds' pay in Outagamie County is $11 per month higher than the 14 counties which pay a $14 average.

Some of the salaries compared to the $25 in Outagamie County are Brown $585, Calumet $440, Dane $570, Dodge $550, Burnett $350, Douglas $537, Kenosha $618, La Crosse $565, Manitowoc $490, Marathon $483, Milwaukee $1,016, Ozaukee $510, Racine $520, Rock $566, Shawano $405, Waukesha $600, Waupaca $423 and Winnebago $493.

The Outagamie County superintendent of schools' salary of $600 is $104 beneath an average salary of $704. However, only 11 of the key 14 counties have their own superintendent.

Of the 43 counties which have their own superintendents, 25 pay more than Outagamie. Many of the 25 counties are smaller than Outagamie.

Some of the examples are Barron $750, Bayfield $710, Brown $666, Calumet $600, Columbia $750, Dane $750, Door $670, Fond du Lac $650, Kenosha $727, Manitowoc $670, Milwaukee $1,135, Ozaukee $610, Racine $750, Sauk $750, Sheboygan $616, Vilas $640, Waukesha $958 and Winnebago $600.

Waupaca County pays its superintendent $710 per month, plus $10 per meeting with county committees.

Of 12 counties with a comparable size, nine are beneath Outagamie County in the sheriff's monthly salary. The average is $653, but Outagamie County is $691.

There are still 22 counties in the state which pay some fees to the sheriff for such matters as serving papers.

Some of the counties which don't pay fees and their sheriff's salaries are Brown $625, Calumet $490, Dane $735, Fond du Lac $583, Kenosha $772, Manitowoc $563, Marathon $666, Milwaukee $1,071, Racine $625, Rock $733, Shawano $330, Waukesha $670, Waupaca $590 and Winnebago $536.

There are no county judges in any Wisconsin county receiving less than $1,000 per month. Forty-six counties in the state, including Outagamie, pay exactly $1,000 a month to county judges.

Milwaukee, once again, leads the pay scale in that category with $1,543 and three other counties — Dodge, Ozaukee and Waukesha — follow with $1,250. Waupaca pays $1,050 and Calumet $1,000, as does Winnebago.

Couple From Oshkosh Leaves $191,000 Estate

OSHKOSH — An Oshkosh soft drink bottling firm head and his wife who were killed in a Minnesota accident on Dec. 4, 1961, left a joint estate of about $191,000, according to inheritance tax orders filed Monday afternoon with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

The bulk of the estate will be divided about equally between a son, Donald O. Below, and a daughter, Audrey Below Peemau, both of Oshkosh. Six grandchildren will receive shares of about $600 each from the combined estates.

The son will receive a share worth $60,000 from his father and $60,515 from the mother and the daughter's share are $40,500 from the father and $60,745 from the mother.

Rebuilding Of Avenue Gets Backing now for some of the inconveniences they will experience once the street is torn up.

"I would say the time is now for College Avenue businessmen to start fixing up the backs of their establishments," Mitchell said.

"I told them this sometime ago but not much has been done about it," Mitchell added. He intimated some of the buildings could use the renovation.

Minahan indicated that the Downtown Tomorrow Committee has been concentrating on the College Avenue project.

"We would like to develop some preliminary proposals that might be considered in developing College Avenue when reconstruction work is undertaken," Minahan wrote the mayor and common council.

Minahan said the committee has been studying various approaches used by other cities to revitalize their central business district.

Asks Review

"We would like to request that the city planner review this material and develop some basic drawings and development alternatives that might be appropriate and suitable for Appleton that our committee can consider in more detail," Minahan said.

"We will cooperate with the city planner in any way possible," he added.

Minahan's letter was interpreted as being indicative the business community is ready and willing to cooperate with the city officials to formulate and expedite the College Avenue project.

Another recent development was the statement by Police Chief Earl Wolff, who has also been thinking of the avenue's reconstruction. Wolff says the elimination of angle parking on the avenue in the future is a must.

Mercury Up, Snow Coming

Freezing Drizzle Across Wisconsin Welcomes New Year

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light snow is due for most of Wisconsin tonight to replace the light freezing drizzle that plagued many areas of the state at the start of the new year.

The drizzle still was coming down at mid-morning today at Eau Claire and Rhineland, but snow had started to fall at Superior.

Temperatures continued moderate. Racine set the state high of 29 degrees on New Year's Day. Green Bay had 27, Milwaukee 26, Beloit, La Crosse and Eau Claire 25, Lone Rock 24, Madison 23, Wausau and Superior 22 and Park Falls 20.

During the night, temperatures remained about the same, ranging from 27 at Racine to 19 at Park Falls.

There were some wet spots across northern sections of the nation but no heavy amounts of snow or rain were reported.

Light Rain Falls

In the Northeast, which was hammered by the season's worst storm earlier this week, light rain fell in Maine. In Maine, the storm had dumped 27 inches of snow in Old Town and 26 inches in Bangor. Still winds drifted snow 20 feet high in some areas.

Light rain also was reported in the middle Mississippi Valley and in the Pacific Northwest. Freezing drizzle slicked areas in the upper Mississippi Valley while drizzle sprayed the central plains.

Snow fell in the lower Great Lakes region and in parts of the north and middle Atlantic Coast states.

In the eastern third of the nation temperatures ranged from near zero in parts of Michigan to freezing and lower in most other areas, with marks in the upper 50s in southern Florida. It was chilly in much of the Southeast, with temperatures mostly in the 30s as far south as South Georgia.

A cold pocket of air kept temperatures near zero in southern Utah.

UW Trying to Locate Nurses

Extension Division Makes Survey Under Ford Foundation

The Department of Nursing, University of Wisconsin Extension Division, is trying to locate all inactive nurses in Outagamie County.

This is a preliminary step in a proposed study of the inactive nurse which seeks to find out under what circumstances she might return to practice and in what way the UW Extension might be of help.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare recently conducted a similar study of the inactive nurse who maintains her registration status, but the UW Extension also seeks information on those nurses who have not kept up their registration.

Asks Contact

Mrs. Signe Cooper, chairman of the UW Extension Division's Department of Nursing, Madison, requests that all inactive nurses in Outagamie County either notify her or call Mrs. Carl A. Stapel, Appleton, at Regent 4-6394. Others who can provide the name and address of an inactive nurse also are asked to help.

The project is being conducted under a research grant to the University of Wisconsin from the Ford Foundation. It is similar to but more extensive than the study conducted by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. There is a possibility the university study may be done in Winnebago County at a later date.

Probe Information

The study is designed to provide descriptive information about professional nurses not currently practicing. This includes certain personal characteristics, educational background, reasons for not engaging in nursing at the present time and plans for future employment.

The study will attempt to gather information on the need for refresher courses to orient the nurses to current nursing practices.

To assure significant findings,

Max McGee Injured in Menasha Crash

Packer Star Had No Insurance, Police Say; Damage at $3,000

MENASHA — Packer football star Williams (Max) McGee Tuesday morning became Menasha's first injury in a highway mishap in 1963. Two passengers in the McGee auto also received injuries.

McGee, 30, 1814 Emily St., Green Bay, was cited for "indefinite driving following the mishap, which left an estimated $3,000 in damage to the two vehicles. McGee is scheduled to appear in court Jan. 8. He was released without bail.

McGee told Menasha police he was talking to passengers in the car and did not see a parked auto in time to avoid the collision, which occurred at 12:42 a.m.

Passengers in the McGee auto injured were Maida Marketti, 531 Van St., Neenah, who suffered severe facial and skull lacerations, and Maria Godechalk, 238 Grant St., Neenah, who received a bump on the forehead and knee injuries. McGee complained of a bump on the forehead. All three were taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Paul A. Kuchenbecker, 50, 1831 Cold Spring Road, Town of Menasha, owner of the parked vehicle hit by the McGee auto, was not injured. Damage to his car was estimated at $2,000.

McGee's convertible received an estimated $1,000 in damages. Police said McGee had no insurance.

Two Other Crashes

Two other auto mishaps marred the New Year holiday scene.

A car driven by Paul E. Schultz, 21, 3000 Mayer St., Menasha, received minor damage at 9:38 p.m. Tuesday when it ran off Kaukauna Street and crashed into a street sign.

A City of Menasha truck driven by Henry J. Fredricks, 59, 613 Second St., Menasha, collided with an auto driven by Andrew J. Reinhart, 47, 748 State St., Menasha, at 11:16 a.m. Monday when Fredricks made an unlawful right turn at Third and De Pere Streets.

Police said Fredricks was in the left lane and made a right turn onto De Pere street when the mishap occurred. Reinhart was making a right turn from the right lane.

Damage to the Reinhart vehicle was estimated at $30.

Snow Blower Purchase Held

Kaukauna Council Refuses to Accept $600 Higher Bid

KAUKAUNA — Aldermen Tuesday night refused to accept a purchasing committee recommendation to purchase a Lorain end loader and snow blower for $19,050, $600 above the low bid for a J. B. Case machine.

Ald. Russell Dix (4th) argued against the purchase of the more expensive equipment. He said it did not meet specifications and pointed out what he considered advantages in the lower priced machine. Ald. Arnold Vanderloop (1st), who viewed all the machines, said the city engineer favored purchase of the Lorain equipment.

Because the engineer was not present to discuss merits of the machines, as some aldermen wanted, a 5 - 4 vote was cast against adopting the purchasing committee recommendation.

There will be further bids when the engineer is present.

Prior to the opening of the meeting, Mayor Joseph Bayrgeon

Set Bond of $500 In Reckless Use of Firearms Charge

OSHKOSH — Bond of $500 was set for further proceedings Thursday morning for Arthur P. Saegert, 42, route 2, Neenah, who is charged with reckless use of firearms and disorderly conduct.

Saegert was arrested at his home Tuesday night after he allegedly threatened his father, Paul Saegert Sr., 91 Madison St., Menasha, and a neighbor, William Angell, route 2, Neenah, with a .30 calibre rifle.

Winnebago County police, called to the home at 7:50 p.m., reported overhearing Saegert threatening to shoot the two men if they tried to leave the house. A city of Neenah squad car was called to the scene with tear gas and shotguns. However, when police entered the home they found Saegert passed out on the floor with the rifle and a pile of ammunition near him. Inspection disclosed the rifle had not been loaded.

Committee OKs Street Projects For Appleton

Work Would Be Done Where New Catholic School Is Planned

Major street improvements have been recommended by the common council's street - sanitation committee for Appleton's far southeast side where construction of a new parochial school is being planned.

The committee met Monday and approved a resolution submitted by Ald. Thomas K. Schneider (13th) to have the following work done in 1963:

Installation of storm sewer on Lourdes Drive between Matthias and Fidelis streets, establish a grade on Matthias Street between Lourdes Drive and Bona Avenue; and grade and gravel Lourdes Drive between Buchanan and Matthias Streets.

St. Bernadette Catholic Church intends to start construction of a new elementary school in the spring with completion scheduled prior to September, 1964. The street improvements and new sewer is needed, however, before the project can be started, according to Schneider.

Obtains Funds

Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe told the committee the work would have to be done. However, it will be up to the common council to obtain the necessary funds to cover the cost of the project.

(The council intends to float a bond issue sometime this year to pay for various street and sewer improvement projects scheduled for 1963.)

In other action Monday, the committee agreed to hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. Jan. 11 to discuss the city's current and long - range sewer and street construction plans. It was disclosed the city would probably have a written report on a recently sewer survey by then.

Plan Meeting

The street - sanitation committee suggested the common council meet as a committee of the whole on Jan. 16 to discuss projects and financing.

No action was taken on a recent resolution by Ald. Roman Groh (8th) that "from Dec. 19, 1962 requests for bids on storm sewers include alternates which would include qualified steel pipe where feasible."

The city has been using concrete sewer pipe. The board of public works recently heard "pitches" from salesmen on the merits of the various types of pipe and went along with concrete pipe.

asked for a ruling from the city attorney on whether it was legal to do business on a legal holiday. After receiving assurance, he opened the meeting.

A request for a pedestal stand ledger container for a new book-keeping machine was referred to the purchasing committee. The electric utility manager was authorized to investigate the need for street lights at 29th Street and Oakridge Avenue and Crooks Avenue and Ann Street and to take necessary action.

Aldermen approved payment of $25 to police officers representing the 1963 clothing allowance.

Calumet Gets $1,000 State Health Aid

CHILTON — Calumet County has received $1,000 from the state this week in aid for its public health program, according to Merlin Zahn, treasurer.

The state reimbursement is applied to the operational costs of the office of County Nurse Mrs. Lois Wilcox.

Four Children Were injured and taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday afternoon after the car in which they were riding was involved in an accident with a truck on County Trunk N. The children were treated and released from the hospital. The truck driver, John DeValk, 55, of Kimberly, is in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital. (Post-Crescent Staff Photo)

Suggestion Nets Man $340

Thimmsy Worker Earns Award for Paper Rolling Idea

KAUKAUNA — Roy Vandenberg, an employee of Thimmsy Paper and Paper Co., received a helping hand in meeting Christmas expenses when the company presented him with $340 last month as a result of a cost savings suggestion he made in 1962.

Vandenberg received an initial award of $100 for a suggestion that called for rolls from the paper machine for a particular grade of paper be wound in reduced diameter, from 48 1/2 inches to 36 1/2 inches, thus permitting running two shipping rolls out of one dry roll, eliminating the need for rewinding one out of approximately five rolls to remove flying splices.

His suggestion was reviewed after one year to determine the amount of saving to the company

Beaver Dam Man Found Dead Of Gunshot Wound on Hy. 44

OSHKOSH — A prominent Beaver Dam attorney was found dead of a gunshot wound in his head at 2:34 a.m. New Year's Day at almost the same spot in which three passengers in his car were killed in an auto accident on Highway 41 in Winnebago County 10 years ago.

The body of Richard Hammer, 34, was found lying in front of his car which was parked on the shoulder of the State Highway 44 and the amount to be paid Vandenberg. Several other suggestion awards totaling to $130 also were paid during December.

Paul Klister earned a $25 award, Alvin Mueller, Lester Russ and James Devarveld received $15 awards. Paul Bethke and Julian Van Stiphout received $10 awards. Theodore Wittman earned a $12.50 award and Donald Juneau and Theodore Wittman shared a $25 award.

Hammer had been a member of the law firm of Hammer and Wells in Beaver Dam. His father, the late Harold Hammer, was a former sheriff of Dodge County. Three University of Wisconsin classmates died in the 1953 accident which involved the car driven by Hammer and a pickup truck at 41 and K.

ELSE SLAMS HARD AT WOMEN'S SLACKS

DEAR CY:
Your article on Elsie Tyrrel of Los Angeles is positive proof women don't have to take a back seat to men in the world of business. Her precision pants patterns for women can't lose because bagging, sagging, sliding pants are seen on women everywhere. Anything to banish figure problems in pants is something that will sell. I have two daughters and have drilled this story into them. If they end up with two worthless husbands, they still can make a living by being inferior and making something manufacturers don't think of, but a woman can.

DEAR MOM:
My mother raised me with the philosophy of standing behind my husband in everything he did. Now, I am wondering if I am head wants to get a franchise for a soft-drink stand, and I offered to help run it. How much time do husbands and wives put into enterprises of this sort?

DEAR MRS. S.:
A soft-drink franchise will keep you on your feet, standing behind your husband. An Orange Julius (orange drink) venture would require 100 hours a week. Orange Walnut, a competitor, recommends a husband - wife team contribute 114 hours a week. Best bear franchise requires someone in attendance 85 to 100 hours weekly during the selling season.

DEAR CY:
Several things have influenced me to want to work in Australia. One was reading about the Florida cattleman who moved his large family there, leading it was one of the world's last frontiers. The others were the spirit of the Australians during the cup races and their strenuous' fights. How could I contact an American firm with sales office in Australia? I am an experienced salesman and think I could handle employment there nicely.

DEAR BLAIR G.:
Working in any foreign country as a transplant poses inevitable social problems. That's why less than 10 per cent of the employees of U. S. firms in Australia are Americans. The Australian Government Trade Commissioner's offices in New York City, Washington, D. C., Chicago, and San Francisco have lists of Australian firms seeking Americans to work there. Write them.

with $220 a month, are the lowest, while Milwaukee, with $737 is the highest. Calumet County pays $375 and Waupaca $302.

The deputy county treasurer's pay is only $5 per month below the 13 county average. Brown County pays $480 and Manitowoc County $450 to lead the 13 counties. Eau Claire County is the lowest with $365. Of the neighboring counties Winnebago pays $410, Waupaca doesn't have the position and Calumet pays $100 on a part-time basis.

Less

The deputy register of deeds, like the deputy treasurer receives $5 a month less than the average Brown and Manitowoc counties again are the highest with $480 and $450, while Portage is the lowest with $325. Calumet County pays $310, Waupaca $215 and Winnebago $410.

Eau Claire County wasn't considered in the register in probable's average because the register there doubles as a court reporter. However, according to the Bureau of personnel statistics the jobs are separate in the other counties making up the average.

Outagamie County's register in probate gets $375 a month compared to Brown $600, Fond du Lac $505, Kenosha $452, La Crosse $500, Manitowoc $450, Marathon $505, Ozaukee $415, Portage $375, Rock $505, Sheboygan $380, Waukesha $600 and Winnebago $435.

The salary in Calumet County is $310 a month. Waupaca County has no register in probate position.

The tax lister's $335 salary compares to a $360 average. County salaries for the tax lister range from Manitowoc's $250 to Brown's $435. Only seven of the 13 average counties have a tax lister. Calumet County pays a tax lister $210 per month on a part-time basis.

Has Effect

Responsibilities for each position vary from county to county which have an effect on the salary. However the positions were rated by the Bureau of Personnel. An example is the courthouse engineer's post which pays a maximum $360 in Outagamie County compared to the average $477.

Brown County pays $600 to its engineer. Waukesha $640 and Manitowoc $530. The lowest in the counties making up the average is Eau Claire with $380. Neither Waupaca nor Calumet counties have a courthouse engineer.

The top pay of $505 for Outagamie County janitors is $75 lower than the $580 average.

Making up the average are Brown $435, Eau Claire $320, Fond du Lac $320, La Crosse $385, Manitowoc $530, Marathon $290, Ozaukee $375, Portage $360, Rock $445, Waukesha $360 and Winnebago $360. Calumet pays $385 and Waupaca $326.

Some of the salaries paid to county public health nurses to make up the $523 average range from $400 to $540. In Fond du Lac and Ozaukee counties $480 to Manitowoc County's $610.

Calumet County has no public health nurse, while Waupaca pays a full time nurse $471 a month.

List Averages

The salaries which make up the $457 average for the assistant public health nurse are comparable in range in the head health nurse. Outagamie County pays $416. The highest salary in the average list is Manitowoc's $530.

Each of the average counties pays more to its highway commissioner than Outagamie County does. The average is $724. Outagamie County pays $600 a month.

The other counties and their monthly salaries are Brown $780, Eau Claire $625, Fond du Lac $745, Kenosha $792, La Crosse $725, Manitowoc $623, Marathon $720, Ozaukee $710, Rock $770, Sheboygan $630, Waukesha $870 and Winnebago $675. Portage County pays $400 per month, but also allows living quarters.

Calumet County pays its high-

Jobs Vary

Once again, responsibilities for the jobs of traffic captain, traffic officer and undersheriff vary from county to county so the salary comparisons hold less weight. And in Winnebago County expenses are taken into the salary.

Top pay for traffic captains are Brown County's $600 a month and Manitowoc County's $580. Small pay for a traffic captain in counties making up the $519 average is Ford du Lac with $440 and Outagamie's is $415.

Manitowoc County has the highest base pay for traffic officers with $580 a month. Eau Claire County is smallest with $355 and Outagamie's highest base pay is $365 a month.

Only eight of the 13 counties had the undersheriff position in 1962. The highest pay was $565 a month in Rock County. The lowest was $370 in Eau Claire County. Outagamie's $416 compares to the average $476.

The radio operator's position is filled in 10 of the 13 counties. The average is $402, while Outagamie's is $345. A radio operator in Rock County makes as much as $590 a week and one in Marathon has a 35-hour week.

List Scale

The jailer's pay scale compares to the radio operators in the eight counties that have the post. The average $384 is $49 higher than Outagamie's $335. Highest is Rock County's $680 and the lowest is $325 in Eau Claire and Marathon counties.

Responsibilities of stenographers are variable. As a result Kenosha pays a top of $449 while Marathon, Ozaukee and Portage Counties pay $290 a month. The same as the top base pay for Outagamie County. The average is $352.

Salaries for typists vary little from the stenographer's pay. Top is Winnebago County's $385, while the lowest is Portage County's $250. The average is $333 and Outagamie County's is $285.

Outagamie County has another position more advanced, which is secretary stenographer. It pays between $375 and $330 a month. The one category where Outagamie County is ahead of the average is hours in the work week. Outagamie County's work week is 37 1/2 hours compared to filled in 10 of the 13 counties. The average is 38 6/10. Five for the average is $402, while Outagamie's is $345. A radio operator in Rock County makes as much as $590 a week and one in Marathon has a 35-hour week.

Put Hat on Snowman, Win Science Books, Magic Trick

BY CAPPY DICK

Because they are both entertaining and most useful in connection with school work, I have selected sets of three wonderful books as the five national prizes for today's snowman contest.

The books—all published by or a postal card, paste the hat on his head, print your name, age and address beneath him and add any decorations you believe will make your entry neat and original in appearance.

If your snowman picture is judged to be one of the five neatest and most original received from boys and girls of the Fox Cities area you will win a preliminary prize—an amazing Magic Paddle Trick. Following the secret instructions that come with the trick, you can cause a star to appear on the paddle, vanish, then reappear.

Entries that win the preliminary prizes will compete with those of preliminary winners from all other cities where this column is published. The sets of Cappy Dick's selected books will be awarded to the boys and girls whose entries are judged to be the five neatest and most original of all.

Names of the winners will be published here. Their prizes will be sent to them by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property and none can be returned.

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

YES ☐ NO ☐

No, usually. Sometimes they should be encouraged. When he was on trial for his life as a trouble-maker, Socrates based his whole defense upon the claim that what his enemies objected to—the doubts he stirred up—was the very thing that made him most valuable. We all tend to become complacent, and we need people to stir us up. A considerable amount of disturbance and disruption seems to be essential to progress.

In case of mental illness, see your family doctor.

Do—

Do Your family doctor knows you and your situation better than any other physician probably does at the moment. He may not be able to treat your mental illness himself, but he will know where to send you for the best possible care. That may be to a psychiatrist, who is a physician who specializes in mental illness. He may send you to a mental health clinic or to the psychiatric department of your local hospital. Your state mental health association may be of service to both you and your family doctor.

When your boy succeeds in college?

Yes—

No—

Before you spend all that money for college, find out what success your son or daughter can expect. Studies of college success or failure point up three important factors: (1) ability, (2) preparation, and (3) motivation. Your child should have done well in school thus far. He should want to go to college on his own "steam." If you have to push him into it, his probable success is dubious.

Griffing Stars as Ole Miss Tips Arkansas in Sugar Bowl

Sets Record for Pass Yardage in 17-13 Triumph

BY BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 1963 Sugar Bowl football classic can be summed up in two words—Glynn Griffing

Griffing perhaps the greatest in a long line of fine Mississippi quarterbacks directed the Rebels to a 17-13 triumph over Arkansas Tuesday in the 28th renewal of the Sugar Bowl

The handsome 6-foot-1 200-pounder from Calkin Miss gave Ole Miss its first perfect season in history as he ended his collegiate career

Now the New York Giants will be looking for Griffing to accomplish similar feats Jim Lee Howell, an assistant coach with the National Football League club signed Griffing to a pro contract immediately after the game. Terms were not disclosed

Another Ole Miss quarterback Charley Conerly gave the giants championships back in the days when Howell was their head coach

Yardage Record
Griffing clicked on 14 of 23 passes for 242 yards and set a Sugar Bowl record for aerial yardage. He eclipsed the 225 yard mark set by Texas Christian Davey O'Brien in the 1959 Sugar Bowl. Sports writers and sports casters voted Griffing the most valuable player—fourth Ole Miss quarterback to win the Miller Digby Memorial Award

It was a great day for quarterbacks. Billy Moore like Griffing a second team All-America turned in a creditable performance before being sidelined with a twisted ankle. Moore had hurt his right knee earlier in the game. His place was taken by sophomore Billy Gray who rifled a wobbly pass to Jerry Lamb which covered 68 yards and set a Sugar Bowl record. Gray did not complete another pass

In the waning moments Moore stood on the sidelines and shouted encouragement to his stand-in. "Keep trying. You're doing the right thing," Moore yelled to Gray after the sophomore threw over the head of his intended receiver

Kicked Field Goal
The Razorbacks had an opportunity to deadlock the score when Ole Miss led 17-10. The Hogs were on the Rebel 5 on a fourth down situation but Broyles chose to have Tom McKeel kick a field goal—which he made—rather than try for a touchdown

"We debated," said Broyles afterwards. "But it was still the third quarter and we figured we could make them punt and then go for the winning touchdown"

The scoreboard briefly showed Arkansas leading at one point. Ole Miss back Louis Guy grabbed a punt in his own end zone and did not run. One official signalled a safety and the board registered two points for Arkansas giving the Hogs a 12-10 edge

But then the officials decided Guy had signalled a fair catch and when they ruled it a touch-

Money talks. And that was no whisper. The National Football League was using at the New Year's Day bowl games flashing fancy figures that lured prized players. Glynn Griffing and Jerry Stovall away from the rival American League

As a matter of fact it was the kind of day that left outspoken

Harry Wisner, owner of the AFL's New York entity groping for words

Griffing, a sharp passer and shrewd signal-caller who was tapped for stardom as a junior when he was selected as a future pick by both leagues, signed with the New York Giants of the NFL minutes after leading undefeated Mississippi to a 17-13 victory over Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl

'Almost Blew Pennant,' Says Player 'We Just Ran Out of Tackles,' Moans Dejected Trojan Coach

BY JIM BACON
PASADENA, CALIF. (AP) — Coach John McKay sat dejectedly Tuesday in the University of Southern California dressing room and moaned

"We just ran out of tackles. We had no tackles. We had guards playing tackle in the second half. His apologetic tone belied the fact that his football team had just beaten Wisconsin 42-37 in the Rose Bowl and kept intact the unbeaten record of the 1962 national champions

McKay wasn't the only dejected person in the dressing room. The Trojan players—save for Ben Wilson—couldn't muster a smile

"We almost blew the pennant like the Dodgers," said one, referring to USC's 42-14 lead in the fourth quarter. That was before Ron VanderKelen's arm almost brought Wisconsin from behind to catch the Trojans

Burly Ben, the Trojans' pile-driving fullback, explained his happy feeling

"You just can't feel sad when you got 42 points and they only got 37 now can you?"

McKay disclosed his tackle problems started with a well kept secret got tossed out of the game for hitting someone near the end of the first half. We just didn't have the tackles"

The man behind Martinovich in the Trojan line-up—Mike Gale—was out with a broken neck

McKay said he wasn't surprised at the Badgers' near-disastrous finish

"We were no more surprised than they were at the start," he said

"We're still No. 1 and they're No. 2. They are a good team but they'd finish about sixth in our league"

Cause of Letdown
McKay said his boys had a letdown and lacked the tackle power to rally. Someone asked what caused the letdown?

"Have you ever been in a race and found yourself about three-quarters of a mile ahead?"

Asked if he thought VanderKelen the best quarterback he had seen, McKay answered:

"No better than ours. But he must be the best we faced all year because he was the most successful, wasn't he?"

Trojan Gridders Triumph, 42-37, As UW's Stirring Rally Falls Short

UW Runs Out of Time After Scoring 23 in Fourth Period;
Vandy Sets Total Offense Mark

BY DAVE O'HARA
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Southern California reigned as a battered but unbowed national football champion today while Wisconsin's battling Badgers were hauled in defeat for the wildest finish in Rose Bowl history

The Trojans, ranked the nation's No. 1 collegiate power after 10 straight 1962 victories, surged to a 42-14 lead early in the fourth period and then hung on for a 42-37 decision Tuesday as time ran out on the Badgers in the 48th annual classic

"What I wouldn't give for just one minute more," said Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn, who beamed with pride over his team's 23-point comeback in the closing minutes

"The clock simply ran out on us." Apparently hopelessly beaten after Southern Cal scored its sixth touchdown in the opening seconds of the final quarter, the Badgers refused to quit and rallied for three TD's and a safety. The Trojans, shocked and bewildered, were like warriors caught in a stampede, but time was in their favor

Sets Record
Ron VanderKelen, a senior quarterback who set a total-of-fense record for the Rose Bowl, passed 19 yards to All-America end Pat Richter to draw Wisconsin within six points with one minute and 19 seconds to play

Gary Kroner then added his fifth conversion boot, raising his consecutive string for the campaign to 32 before he tried an on-side kickoff

Southern Cal guard Pete Lubisich wrecked the Wisconsin strategy by recovering on his 41. Three plays resulted in a net loss of seven yards and Ernie Jones stepped back to punt. His kick nearly was blocked and the gun sounded before the teams could line up

Trojan Coach John McKay appeared more like a dejected loser and Bruhn more like a victor after the game. Bruhn, especially, had reason to be sad as Wisconsin failed in two previous trips to the Rose Bowl—losing 7-0 to Washington in 1960

VanderKelen and his Southern Cal counterpart, Pete Beathard, were voted co-winners of the Play-er-of-the-Game award. Vandy, named the Big Ten's most valuable player after he led Wisconsin to the nation's No. 2 ranking with an 8-1 record set a Rose Bowl total offense mark of 406 yards, including 401 yards on 33 pass completions in 48 attempts. Beathard established a record for the classic by hurling four touchdown passes while completing 8 of 12 tosses for 190 yards

"Minnesota gave me a lot tougher time in putting on the pressure," VanderKelen said modestly of his fantastic passing

Grabs 11 Passes
Richter, who grabbed 11 VanderKelen passes, expressed probably the most common regret in the Wisconsin dressing room. "If we only had a little more time"

Southern Cal scored on a 57-yard drive the first time it had the ball. Beathard capped the advance by tossing a fourth-down tackle-eligible pass to Ron Butcher for 13 yards. Wisconsin's Ralph Kurek tied the count with a 1 yard smash before an interception by All-America linebacker Damon Bane set up a similar plunge by Southern Cal's big Ben Wason

A 45-yard pass from Bill Nelson to speedster Willie Brown set up Heller's TD just after the controversial "quick whistle"

Just before the half ended, an apparent touchdown on a pass from VanderKelen to Lou Holland was wiped out by a Badger clipping penalty

On the first scrimmage play of the third period, Beathard lofted a short pass to end Hal Bedsole who took off on a 57 yard jaunt

Win Over Sooners

BY BOB HOOBING
MIAMI (AP) — Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant—whose teams have lost only once in 29 games—his proudest of his Orange Bowl football champions because of their quick, hard but clean play

The fifth-ranked Crimson Tide with All-America center Lee Roy Jordan sparking an agile though outweighed line, stopped the potent Oklahoma offense 17-0 Tuesday in the first period which swung the balance early

Alabama actually halted the Sooners at the 6, 8, 10 and 15 yard lines in a remarkable display of defensive excellence

"Oklahoma is the hardest hitting team we played all year," Jordan commented. "Luckily we were able to anticipate nearly all of their offensive moves"

Huff Heaps Praise
Jordan anticipated so well that Sam Huff, a linebacker of some note with the National Football League's New York Giants spoke in awe of the eagerly sought pro draftee. "That boy is really something"

Bryant kept stressing the point indicating the nation's great defensive genius (39 points in 11 games) still is sensitive about accusations Alabama plays too rough after an injury to a Georgia Tech player against the Tide a year ago

"We teach nothing but clean football at Alabama," Bryant told a post game banquet, "despite what some people in another profession have thought sometimes I'm especially proud of our seniors. Everybody played as well as he could"

UW's Billy Smith Faces Surgery For Jaw Injury

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin halfback Billy Smith faced surgery today for a jaw injury suffered in the Badgers' 42-37 Rose Bowl loss to Southern California

Smith, a 194-pound junior from Scammon, Ill. who holds the Big Ten indoor 6-yard championship in track, was taken to Huntington Memorial Hospital Tuesday after being injured in tackling 6-foot-5 Hal Bedsole in the third period

He suffered a shattered jaw and lost six teeth in the collision. He was used mainly as a defensive back because of his speed and toughness despite his small physical frame

End Hal Bedsole of Southern California leaps high to take a 23 yard pass good for USC's fifth touchdown against Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl game Tuesday. Wisconsin defenders are Rick Reichardt (48) and Half-back Jim Nettles (26). USC won, 42-37 (AP Wirephoto)

Milt Bruhn Hides His Disappointment Behind Pride in Effort

Mentor Disturbed
Over Ruling on Apparent Fumble

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn hid his disappointment behind pride Tuesday after time ran out on his Badgers' in the 42-37 loss to Southern California in the Rose Bowl

"I'm real proud of the kids," Bruhn said. "I like the way they stayed in there"

In keeping with his regular season custom, Bruhn barred visitors to the players' clubhouse. The only outsiders allowed were University of Wisconsin President

Fred Harrington and Governor-elect John Reynolds

Bruhn looked more like a winner than a loser as he greeted writers in a side office. He smiled—although he had wanted victory badly to atone for a 44-8 humiliation by Washington in the Rose Bowl three years ago

"They won the first half and we won the second," the coach said. "It was that type of game. They got to us quickly in the first half and then again in the second"

That probably has to be called the turning point when they hit us right after the half"

Bruhn referred to Southern Cal's

Xavier will attempt to begin 1963 with a victorious note—its tenth win of the season—tonight when it faces Wausau Newman at the Xavier High School Gymnasium

The Hawks measured the Newman cagers in the first game of the current campaign, 73-44, in Wausau Newman has lost one other game, that to Campion Academy of Prairie du Chien, and has come fast with three straight victories to run its season slate to 6-2. The Wausau school is 2-1 and second to Stevens Point Pacelli (3-0) in the Central Wisconsin Catholic Conference race

Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark's biggest problem will be to contain the Newman center 6-5 Jud Schoeneman. Schoeneman tallied 22 points against the Hawks in that first contest

Adds Height

Newman had added height in its starting lineup. In addition to Mike Banderob (6-2), coach Connie Knoche has inserted Gary Koy (6-2½) into the lineup as Banderob's running mate at forward

The Hawks will continue to go with "Kip" Whittlinger, Dick Wiesner, Pete Zanig, Rocky Bleier and John Heinritz

With the added height in their lineup the Newman cagers can expect the Xavier press to go at full speed. An analysis of the Hawks press, incidentally, re-with the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals at the 40-yard line immediately after the Tigers' 13-0 triumph over Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Sought By Oilers

Griffing and Stovall both were sought by the AFL's Houston Oilers. The Oilers also lost Stovall's teammate, tackle Don Estes, who went to the Cards.

Houston reversed the tables somewhat by grabbing its No. 1 Grabham, and Oklahoma halfback Paul Lea, who was signed at the Orange Bowl after a 17-0 loss to Alabama. Both were selected by St. Louis in the NFL draft.

Texas fullback Ray Poage went to Minnesota of the NFL. Oklahoma tackle Duane Cook made the Cards his choice, Mississippi back Chuck Morris decided on NFL champion Green Bay, Rebel tackle Jim Dunaway said he was committed to Buffalo of the AFL, and Arkansas back Jessie Branch picked Calgary of the Canadian League.

Poage also was selected by Denver of the AFL. Dunaway by Minnesota of the NFL. Morris was a future NFL pick. The AFL passed on Cook and neither league drafted Branch.

Griffing and Stovall were the big catches as the pro loops dropped their bait, but there was quite a bit of talk about the one that got away—Ron VanderKelen, the Wisconsin quarterback who starred for the Badgers in a 42-37 loss to Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

All 14 NFL clubs left VanderKelen off their draft lists. And that's what made Wismer speechless. He had just learned his club held draft rights to VanderKelen. "He's ours, really?" asked Wismer.

Assured that he was the Titans' No. 21 draft choice, Wismer said, "You can say right now that I'll be willing to give him a five-year contract at $25,000 a year. If the club is sold soon, I'll recommend that the new owners offer it to

Verbal Agreement

Wisner's club also had the draft rights to Stovall, who was their No. 1 selection. However, Houston had hoped to sign him and Personnel Director John Breen said his club had been unable to acquire the rights although New York had verbally agreed to such a transfer.

"We cannot proceed," said Breen, "because Commissioner Joe Foss will not approve it unless we have it in writing."

Griffing's signing with the Giants also came as no surprise. They have been counting on him to take over as the No. 1 quarterback when 36-year-old Y. A. Tittle retires. How good is the 200-pound 6-foot 1 product already labeled a sure thing?

Griffing finished off his college career with a flurry. He passed 33 yards for one touchdown against Arkansas, scored once, completed 14 of 23 passes and wound up with a Sugar Bowl record of 242 yards passing, surpassing the record of 225 set by TCU's Davey O'Brien in 1939.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles paid Griffing this tribute: "He's the greatest quarterback in America. In fact, he's the best college passer I've ever seen."

third touchdown, a pass from Pete Beathard to Hal Bedala, who took off on a jaunt which covered 37 yards. That made the score 28-7.

"The pass interceptions also hurt us," Bruhn said. "And with a couple of breaks we would have won."

Bruhn was disturbed particularly by the referee's ruling involving a key play in the second period. Trailing 14-7, Wisconsin recovered an apparent fumble by Bill Nelson on the Trojan 38. However, the officials ruled the ball was dead and Southern Cal retained possession. Two plays later the Trojans struck for a touchdown.

discussed the finish as soon as the half ended," Bruhn said. "I thought it was so awfully quick while I'm not going to say any more about the officiating."

Bruhn also was annoyed by a 10-minute delay in the start of the game and then a 10-minute additional wait in the runway for the players at intermission.

He said it "definitely had an effect" on the Badgers.

Place Pro Prospect

Ron VanderKelen, the sensation-al quarterback, was described as "a fine pro prospect" although the 170-pound center was passed up in the National Football League draft and wasn't picked until the third round by New York in the American Football League.

"I think someone should sign him," Bruhn said. "He has an unusual way of freeing himself when apparently trapped."

Bruhn described Southern Cal as "just wonderful, a real fine team."

"They're quick and tough," he said. "We met a football club." The Badgers were dejected as they trooped to the dressing quarters. However, cheers were heard when VanderKelen received an award as co-winner of "Player of the Game" honors. He shared it with Southern Cal linebacker Deane Bates.

LSU Passes Way To 13-0 Victory Over Longhorns

Tigers Also Cash in on Texas Errors in Cotton Bowl

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Louisiana State, performing unlike the conservative, defense-minded team it had been pictured, passed for more yards than it ran and gave Texas a 13-0 beating in the Cotton Bowl Tuesday.

It only bore out the predictions of Coach Charlie McClendon that because two strong defensive teams were playing, it would bring wide-open football. He obviously was thinking more of Louisiana State.

Lynn Amedee, a stubby young man from Baton Rouge, made the serial game click and he also heaved two field goals that bettered the Cotton Bowl record, recovered a fumble to set up the Tiger touchdown and got himself picked as the outstanding back of the game.

Two Fumbles

Louisiana State cashed in on Texas errors that included two fumbles and three intercepted passes, and used a pass interference penalty to further a scoring drive.

But the Tigers didn't actually need this help.

Their defense held Texas outside their 25-yard line and the Longhorns never seriously threatened to score.

It was the first time for a Darrell Royal team at Texas to fail to penetrate the opposition's 20-yard line.

Amedee passed for 33 yards and ran for 10 to set up the first field goal, a 23-yard effort that bettered the Cotton Bowl record by a yard. This came just eight seconds before the half was up and the Tigers held a 3-0 lead at intermission.

The Louisiana State touchdown that pushed the lead to 10-0 came at the start of the second half when Jerry Cook, Texas halfback, fumbled the kickoff on the Longhorn 37 and Amedee fell on the ball.

Amedee turned the quarterbacking over to Jimmy Field and he carried the Tigers down to the Texas 21 with an 11-yard pass to Gene Sykes. Then Field, a tall young man from Baton Rouge, pulled one of the top plays of the game. Back to pass but seeing that he had no receivers open, Field reversed to left end and sped to a touchdown. Amedee kicked the extra point.

Breaks Record

Amedee put the wrung on the cake with a 37-yard field goal in the fading minutes. This broke the Cotton Bowl record Amedee had set in the second period.

Six times Louisiana State moved into Texas territory, scoring three times and reaching the 42, 30 and 12 on the other occasions. Passing figured mostly prominently in all of the surges.

Texas got into LSU land three times but only on the first drive, which reached the 25, did the Longhorns have a chance to score. But Tony Crosby muffed a field goal from the Louisiana State 32.

Louisiana State had 259 yards total offense, with 13 pass completions in 21 attempts accounting for 122 yards.

Amedee passed for one apparent touchdown—a 6-yard toss to Billy Truax—but it was rubbed out by an illegal receiver penalty. Then Amedee settled for the 37-yard field goal.

Jerry Stovall, the Louisiana State All-America halfback, gained only 36 yards rushing but he kicked for an average of 41.8, intercepted a pass, broke up another and got one tackle.

Signs Contract

So as the game closed and the 75,504 fans filed out of the stadium, Stovall met St. Louis Cardinals representatives at the 40-yard line and signed a contract to play in the National Football League.

Johnny Treadwell, Texas' All-America guard who got six tackles, assisted on six more and broke up one pass, was voted out, standing lineman of the game.

The fans were puzzled because Ray Poage, Texas fullback who was the team's leading ground-gainer, didn't run a single time. But it was explained that Poage was being used as decoy and for blocking.

The Royals overtook the last-place Knicks with a fourth period surge in the only league game on Tuesday night's schedule, tied it at the end of the regulation time, then won in overtime, 112-105.

Oscar Robertson, who led all scorers with 33 points, found the range for eight points in the overtime. That made Cincinnati's task easy.

for the first of his two touchdowns. VanderKelen then scored on a 17-yard run before Beathard passed to Bedsole in the end zone from 23 yards out.

The fourth quarter started with Beathard launching a 13-yard pass off aerial to Fred Hill. Then Wisconsin—especially VanderKelen—took charge.

Holland Scores

First Holland went romping across the goal from the 13 at 3:19, when a recovered fumble on the Trojan 29 set the stage for a 4-yard TD pass from VanderKelen to Kroner at 6:33.

Wisconsin next drove from its 32 only to have a pass from a first down on the Southern Cal 4 intercepted by Brown in the end zone. Then a poor centering pass by USC's Larry Sagueuse sailed into the Trojan end zone and gave Wisconsin two points on a safety at 2:20.

At 13:41, Vandy passed 19 yards to Richter for a touchdown. Then came Wisconsin's vain bid to beat the clock—with many of the 96,000 fans having started home some time ago, satisfied that Southern Cal would win in a rout.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals were just three percentage points behind the Syracuse Chiefs today in the race for second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association thanks to everyone's victim, the New York Knicks.

The Royals overtook the last-place Knicks with a fourth period surge in the only league game on Tuesday night's schedule, tied it at the end of the regulation time, then won in overtime, 112-105.

Oscar Robertson, who led all scorers with 33 points, found the range for eight points in the overtime. That made Cincinnati's task easy.

veals it's a press all its own — not a man-for-man press, or not a zone press.

Heinritz, who is Xavier's most improved player, will draw the assignment of guarding Schoeneman. Bleier will probably be assigned to take the southpaw driving DeBruin.

Clark reveals that his man-for-man assignments are flexible according to the way the game is going. Certain players have different talents and a switch in individual assignments is in order should a certain player "get hot," as they say in cage circles.

Whitinger has a 30-point per game scoring average. The red-topped Hawk coach reports "Kip" has improved this year as an out-side shot.

Certain reserves are showing evidence that they may be of help in future contests. Bob DeBruin fired in two baskets in the first period against Marshfield Columbian and finished up with eight points in the game. Bob Rammer and Tim Garvey have looked good on occasion in the back court.

Bryant Proud Of Defense In 17-0 Victory

Sooner Fumble in First Period Was Big Play, Says Coach

BY GENE FLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Everybody played as well as he could," a happy Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant said Tuesday after his football team walloped Oklahoma 17-0 in the Orange Bowl.

"That tackle on the fumble was a real big play."

Superbly Coached

"Oklahoma is a terrific team, superbly coached, as you know," Bryant went on. "I think the quickness of our first unit line and our passing made the difference."

"I'm proud our defense didn't let them score. That Grisham — it's been a long time since I've seen a man run as hard as he did."

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson said, "Alabama played very well" and he added that, "They were much better prepared for the game. They did a superior job of coaching."

Oklahoma's bowl record now is 6-2 and Bryant coached teams administered both defeats.

Little Quicker

"Our kids stayed with them," Wilkinson said, "but they were sharper and a little quicker. Their line was able to get there quicker than we were."

Wilkinson also said his team's pass protection was "ineffective." "I think we could have played better," he said, "but I think our team also has limitations."

Wilkinson said the opening kick wasn't intended as an on-side kick but described it as a "missed spin-type kick."

Oklahoma coaches had high praise for Alabama's center, Lee Roy Jordan, a tower of strength in the line.

"Lee Roy told me he missed some tackles," Bryant grinned, "but I imagine the films will show he made a few."

The only seriously injured player was Alabama's Richard O'Dell, a senior from Lincoln, Ala., who broke his left arm late in the third quarter.

Shirley Batters and Joe Vanden Heuvel Set Kegling Pace

KIMBERLY — Shirley Batters slammed a 150 game and a 520 series to lead women, and Joe Vanden Heuvel potted a 302 set to pace the men in the KRA Couples Fish League at Jerry's Lanes.

Other honor scores were hit by Mary Williamson, 500, and Barbara Van Handel, 190.

'Baby' Arizmendi, Former Boxer, Succumbs at 48

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alberto (Baby) Arizmendi, who in 1934 won a share of the disputed featherweight championship, is dead.

The specific cause of his death Monday in the Veterans Administration Hospital at West Los Angeles has not been announced. The hospital said he died of natural causes. He was 48.

Born at Torreón, Mexico, Arizmendi defeated Kid Pancho in Mexico City in 1931 to win the Mexican bantamweight crown.

He boxed in Los Angeles for 10 years starting in 1932 and was one of the most popular fighters in history in this city, which has thousands of Mexican-American fans.

State's Float Places Third

About 5,500 Wisconsin Residents Attend Game

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin's float in the Rose Bowl parade, entered by the people of the Badger State, took a third place in the colorful pageant.

The float, financed by Wisconsin residents after state officials decided not to sponsor a parade entry, ranked third in the category reserved for states.

The Wisconsin float, seventh in line, was named "Memorable Moments in Dairyland" standing in front of a giant floral version of a Badger were "Miss Wisconsin," Joan Engh, and "Alice in Dairyland," Sylvia Lee.

The University of Wisconsin's 144-man band was one of the many musical groups in the parade.

Approximately 5,500 Wisconsin residents, led by Governor-Elect John W. Reynolds, were on hand to root for the Badgers in the 100,000 seat Rose Bowl.

Scoring Plays

Here's how the scoring plays went:

Billy Carl Irwin of Mississippi and McKnelly each kicked 30-yard field goals in the second quarter. Griffing rifled a 33-yard pass to Guy for the first Rebel touchdown. Arkansas tied the score again when Moore passed 5 yards to Jesse Branch.

Then Griffing engineered a drive covering 80 yards in 10 plays and went over from the 1 for the TD. Two key Griffing passes—both to Guy for 16 and 35 yards—sparked the thrust.

McKnelly's second field goal, a 23-yarder, ended the scoring.

Dow Jones Average
Off 2.84 at Noon,
New Basis 649.26

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks were a firm spot in a mixed stock market as 1962 trading got under way today. Holdings were quiet early this afternoon.

While key stocks generally showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point, some of the higher-priced issues dropped 3 or 4 points.

Brokers credited the sharper losses to the desire of some traders to take profits at the start of the new year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 3 at 243.3 with industrials off 5, rails up 2, and utilities off 1.

IBM stretched a 2-point loss to about 4 in the afternoon. Polaroid was off more than 3 while Du Pont and Xerox dropped more than 2 each.

AT&T, with a mixed report on profits was down more than a point. Brokers said the stock was up substantially from its 1962 low and profits could be taken.

Fractional gains were scored by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

C&O traded unchanged while B&O New York Central and Southern Railway were among fractional gainers.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.84 at 649.26.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange rose in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed and government issues higher.

Red Leader
Put Over
Hoax of '62
Nik Made Many Believe He Wanted
Nuclear War

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Man of the year? Biggest news event of the past year? This is the time perhaps for a different kind of nomination — who shall get the award for putting over the "hoax of the year"?

Unquestionably the perpetrator of the deception that scared the world in 1962 was Nikita Khrushchev. He never had the slightest intention of starting a nuclear war, but he made people everywhere believe he did. Thus, he won the praise of heads of government throughout the world when he withdrew his artificial threat.

But the whole war scare was really baseless. If it wasn't, then someone for several years now has been lying to the American people about the power of massive retaliation possessed by our missiles and nuclear weapons.

As the year 1962 ended, the United States had an arsenal of 500 missiles at bases scattered inside the United States or aboard submarines at sea or planted on sites in Europe — all of these missiles being able to reach into the heart of Russia.

Again and again the American people have been told by spokesmen for the government that within a matter of a few hours the entire Soviet Union could be destroyed in retaliation for a surprise attack. Even conceding that this country would take the "first blow" and that it would be terrible, the fact remains that not all the bases from which the United States could strike back would be destroyed simultaneously. Also, the submarines under the sea and the missiles based in European countries would be able immediately to return the blow with such intensive force that the Soviet people would be annihilated.

Nikita Khrushchev knew all this before he sent his 40 missiles to Cuba. He knew that, while a missile attack from Cuba might devastate some American cities within a range of 1,200 miles, this would not destroy the many missile bases in other parts of the United States which could fire back instantly at the Soviet Union.

Never Logical
 So the theory that an attack would be launched from Cuba alone was never logical. Such an attack would have to be simultaneous with a missile attack from the Soviet Union itself, and this in turn means that all European bases and all underwater missiles on the Western alliance would have to be rendered useless coincidentally. Nobody familiar with defense problems has ever attributed such destructive power to Russia.

The more the problem is analyzed, the more implausible is the theory that Mr. Khrushchev ever intended an attack from Cuba or anywhere else.

Then what was the Soviet Premier's real purpose? And what did he get out of it all? He got a pledge from the United States not to intervene in Cuba. But this in itself was hardly worth the risks of the whole expedition. Was the object perhaps to start a cycle of negotiations that might bring concessions and compromises by the United States in the Berlin situation and elsewhere? Did Mr. Khrushchev think that, by scaring the American people, he would force the President to adopt a "peaceful co-existence" policy in Europe and around the globe wherever the Communists have extended their power?

Looking at it solely from the Moscow viewpoint, what was there to lose by the venture? The United States certainly wouldn't attack first and bring on a nuclear war. The Soviet ruler still held the trigger and didn't intend to pull it and commit suicide. He could haggle for a while about whether the missile bases were "offensive" or "defensive." The whole game appealed to him as one he couldn't possibly lose. For he knew in advance that at any critical moment he could always withdraw and get credit for a "statesmanlike" decision, as President Kennedy actually called Mr. Khrushchev's reversal.

But wasn't it an expensive gamble? Early reports estimated that the whole project cost the Soviets the project cost Russia a billion $50 million. And that's peanuts to the Russians, who spend through-out the world in propaganda alone about a billion dollars a year. Scared World

 The hoax was dramatic. It scared the world. It helped the Soviet propaganda for suspension of nuclear tests, and maybe it promoted the cause of disarmament from the viewpoint of the Soviets. They are still pressing for disarmament without inspection. But, above all, this strange ad-venture in diplomacy put Mr. Khrushchev in the position of being conciliatory, peace-seeking and magnanimous. The man in the Kremlin presumably spared America a war we were ready to believe was coming and saved themselves from a war they never intended to start. So the hoax certainly earns Nikita Khrushchev the infamous title of "aggressor of the century" though the Red Chinese want to substitute for "aggressor" the word "coward." America will not let "aggressor" stand.

First Italian Nuclear Reactor Begins Operation
 ROME — Twenty years after Enrico Fermi's Chicago experiments opened the Atomic age, the first reactor in his native Italy has started regular operation. The plant is located at Latina, in the midst of the swamps Benito Mussolini drained. By only three weeks, the plant misused opening on Dec. 2 anniversary of Fermi's first controlled reaction. Enrico Mattei, the dynamic federal power czar who started the plant three years ago, was due to start the reactor. But he died in an airplane crash six weeks ago. The Latina plant is the first of three. Latina starts with 30 tons of uranium and machinery partly supplied by Britain's atomic authority. When its full supply of 300 tons of uranium are on hand, it will put out 200,000 kilowatts, nearly fed into the grid to Rome 50 miles away. The second plant being built on the Garigliano river, will supply Naples. The third plant is in the northern Piedmont range at Trino Vercellese.

Castro Shows New Housing For Workers

Occupants to Pay
10 Per Cent of Income for Rent

BY JOE MCGOWAN JR.
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A workers' paradise—a tall apartment development where rent is 10 per cent of a man's salary—has been built east of the Cuban capital as a showcase of Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.
Prime Minister Castro is obviously proud of the multimillion-dollar, ultramodern development and says more will be built by his regime.
He showed off the project, known simply as East Havana, to four visiting Americans during a two hour auto tour of the city last Sunday.
Guests On Tour
Guests of Castro on the tour were Capt. Alfred Boerum, master of the freighter African Pilot, Leonard Scheele, former surgeon general of the United States; E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., Washington attorney; and this writer.
Boerum's ship had sailed into Havana that day with approximately $11 million worth of food and drugs as down payment toward the release of Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners. Scheele and Prettyman assisted in plans for obtaining and transporting the supplies.
As Castro's chauffeur-driven, heavily armed automobile approached the development, the dictator pointed out that a street circled the area but no roads ran between the houses.
"There is more security for young children this way," Castro said.

Cheered By Children
Castro ordered his driver, a soldier, to park the car and he got out and walked up a slight grade into a yard near East Havana's elementary school.
Within minutes the news of Castro's presence had spread through the development and a crowd gathered, shouting the usual "Viva Fidel, Viva Fidel."
Castro leaned down and patted some children on the head. He shook hands with some of the young Cubans.

East Havana has its own shopping center with a department store, barber shop, beauty parlor, pharmacy and a number of other stores. It also has a secondary school and a large recreation and sports field.
Each unit costs $6,000 to build, Castro said. He told the Americans there was great need for more such units in Cuba.

He called at random on several in the group which had gathered and asked them to tell the Americans whether they liked the project. Unanimously, they said they did.

"Like A Dream"
One of the tenants, Juan Garcia, said he thought the project was "like a dream come true." He said he earned $168 per month as a shoemaker and paid $16.80 per month in rent, 10 per cent. Garcia particularly praised the children's day nursery.

Castro asked one youngster how many students attended his school. He was told that nearly 1,000 students were enrolled.

There are several of the apartment buildings averaging 10 floors. Three of these were still under construction.

The project has a population of nearly 15,000, Castro said. He added that applications for residences are so heavy that preference has to be given to those with the largest families.

Castro said, "We like large families."

J. I. Case, UMW Sign Contract

RACINE (AP)—The J. I. Case Co. and Local 180 of the United Auto Workers signed a one-year contract Monday, effective immediately.

Signing followed a union membership meeting Sunday when ratification was given by voice vote to the contract which had been agreed upon earlier by bargaining representatives. Sam Rizzo, UAW international representative, said there was little dissent voiced at the meeting.

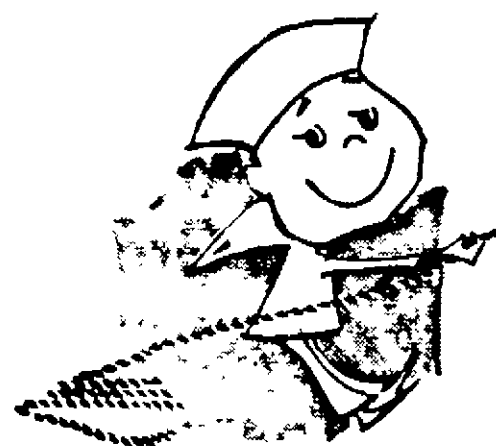

The contract covers 2,100 workers in Racine where Case has a total employment of 3,500. Provisions include a 3 per cent across-the-board general wage increase, bringing the pay range for hourly workers to a minimum of $2.14 and a maximum of $3.44. It also eliminates a deductible feature in the insurance programs and provides for company deduction of union dues and fees on a check-off system where authorized—a feature sought by the union previously.

The former two-year contract was signed in September 1960 following a six-months strike.

President Hopes Acceptance of Gradual Tax Slash to Compromise With Congress on Major Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, deeply worried by the prospects of his legislative program, is working for a gradual billion tax cut compromise with Congress. The President has ordered the Treasury to prepare a tax bill that would bring about the reductions in several carefully spaced steps.

The aim is to lessen the immediate adverse impact on the federal budget deficit.

The President's action, learned from sources privy to Kennedy policy secrets, was influenced by the much-publicized deficit fears of Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. These two committees must approve all tax legislation.

Considers Cut Essential

It was understood that Kennedy agreed to the compromise approach because he believes without a reduction the nation will return to unemployment levels known only in periods of deep recession. But he hopes that if Congress accepts the tax plan the unemployment rates will drop to the lowest levels since the boom that followed World War II.

But while Kennedy is willing to try compromise on his tax program, authoritative sources said he is determined to push harder for American proposals for solving cold war problems—even if it means treading on the toes of sensitive allies.

Apparently emboldened by the success of the Cuban blockade, the chief executive was said to be willing now to accept criticism from abroad in order to pursue what he believes are the most promising approaches to world issues. He was depicted as accepting complaints from allies as an inevitable by-product of progress.

But there is also the problem of his legislative program's progress.

The sources detailed Kennedy's

10 Persons Die On State Roads During Holiday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin highway accidents during the long New Year's holiday period which began last Friday night claimed the lives of at least 10 persons.

Four persons died on the state closed out one of its most tragic years on the highways with a 1962 death toll of 949, 41 more than died in 1961 and only six less than in the record year of 1956.

David Gavin, 19, of Hill Point in Sauk County, was injured fatally Tuesday when his car left a road near Cazenovia and hit a culvert.

Vilas Pague, 24, Merrill, was killed early Tuesday when his car struck a culvert near Merrill.

Mrs. Paul Ellefson, 50, Cushing, was killed early Tuesday in a two-car collision on a Polk County road a few miles from her home.

10 Persons Die On State Roads During Holiday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

David Gavin, 19, of Hill Point in Sauk County, was injured fatally Tuesday when his car left a road near Cazenovia and hit a culvert.

Blast Rips Packing Firm In Indiana

Six Known Dead, Five Others Presumed Killed

BY JAMES R. POLK

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—An explosion tore through the Home Packing Co. plant today and 11 were feared dead and at least 37 injured.

Fire Chief Norman Fesler said eight bodies were removed from the rubble, and three others spotted in the ruins were presumed dead.

The rubble reeked with deadly ammonia fumes and scalding steam.

At least one survivor was in the ruins, and rescuers worked gingerly toward him, hoping to avoid injuring him more.

Gas Hampers Rescue

Ammonia gas, apparently escaping from ruptured refrigeration lines, hampered the rescue work, and a coal mine rescue squad used gas masks to dig into the rubble.

Company officials had trouble determining exactly how many production workers were in the wrecked section. They set up a temporary office, asking other workers to register for an accounting. Early estimates had about eight unaccounted for in the ruins.

The blast occurred about 7:30 a.m. (CST) as the day workers were reporting at the riverfront plant.

About 75 workers joined in rescue efforts, including six fire companies, civil defense workers and city and state police.

The nation's traffic deaths during the long New Year's weekend today appeared to be one of the lowest for a similar four-day holiday and far below early estimates by safety experts.

Belated reports may boost the final total but the count at midnight Tuesday, the end of the 102-hour holiday period, showed 364 deaths in traffic accidents, 83 in fires and 127 in miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 574.

The National Safety Council before the start of the count at 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday estimated a traffic death toll of 420 to 480.

The record low traffic death toll for a four-day New Year's holiday was 375 during the 1951-52 period. The record high four-day New Year's traffic toll was 409 in 1956-57.

Sen. Kerr's Death Certain to Have Wide Effect at Capital

Coronary Occlusion Is Fatal To Influential Oklahoman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., a powerful and among powerful men, is dead and his death is expected to have wide-ranging repercussions in the White House, the Senate and his home state.

The 66-year-old multimillionaire oilman senator topped Tuesday morning as he was telling a story to his physician at Doctors Hospital. He died minutes later. Death was attributed to a coronary occlusion.

He entered the hospital Dec. 16 for treatment of a respiratory infection. Doctors found evidence of a heart ailment, but had said he was making good progress.

President Kennedy, who got word of Kerr's death while flying to the Orange Bowl in Miami to see the Oklahoma-Alabama football game, issued a statement hailing Kerr's legislative career as "exceptional."

Influenced Legislation

"In the last two years alone, almost every major bill enacted bore the mark of his untiring leadership and skill," the President's statement said.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, whose four-year term expires Jan. 14, was shocked at the death of the man sometimes called the "crowned king of the Senate. Also

England Has Worst Snow In 82 Years

LONDON (AP) — Shivering southern England, buried beneath its worst snows in 82 years, braced today for another blizzard onslaught.

Air Ministry forecasters said snowstorms, harsher than those which already have wrought widespread death and chaos, might strike again today across wide areas of the south.

The threat of heavy new snowfalls increased anxiety in scores of villages short of food and isolated for days by mountainous snowdrifts blocking road and rail lines.

As Britain sank deeper into winter, industry began to feel the crippling effects of the ice and snow.

Auto Workers Idled

More than 12,000 auto workers at Oxford and in the Midlands were idle because supply trucks couldn't negotiate the ice-glazed roads to deliver parts.

The fierce cold is costing the nation millions of pounds a day in lost working time and increased transport, rescue and road-clearing costs.

The Ministry of Transport said about 10,000 snowplows and other road-clearing machines were at work on the highways.

Southern England was a sea of snow. Not since Jan. 18, 1881—when snow drifted 15 feet high in London's Oxford Circus—has the south seen such snowfalls.

Rarely did the temperature rise above freezing anywhere in Britain Tuesday. The low in London was 29. The low for the nation was 18 at Kinross, Scotland.

The death toll from the cold mounted. A firm figure was not available, but estimates put it at around 15.

Helicopters, the only sure way of getting across the frozen wastes, flew supplies to beleaguered families and carried seriously ill people to hospitals.

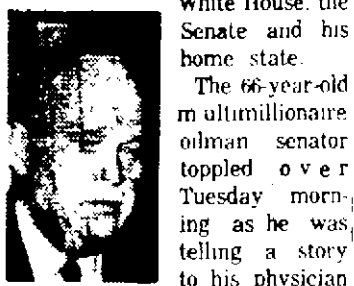

Thousands of troops and police toiled all day trying to hack their way through to marooned communities.

Powell's Condition Continues Serious

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor-producer Dick Powell, suffering from cancer, remains gravely ill.

Powell spent three days at Newport Beach but returned to his Wilshire District apartment for the New Year's holiday. A spokesman said Powell's friends appeared to be more deeply concerned about him Tuesday night.

Shortly before Christmas Dr. John C. Sharpe announced that Powell was "a very sick man" and disclosed that Powell's hospitalization Nov. 27 evidently indicated the cancer had spread to the lower back from neck glands and the chest cavity.

Nazi Criminals Seized

BY DAVID M. NICHOL

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS SERVICE

LUDWIGSBURG, Germany — Nearly 20 years ago, in 1943, Alois Haefele, a peacetime policeman and SS lieutenant, had charge of a detail of Jewish prisoners in Kulmbach or Chelmno, the first of the major Nazi "death camps" in Poland.

Haefele's prisoners had the grisly task of sorting the garments of their slaughtered compatriots, and Haefele himself, who admits he carried a whip — "but with no evil intent" — was having some second thoughts.

Fearful Retribution

It is recorded that he said at the time: "May God have pity on us all if this goes wrong. If Germany loses the war we can hang ourselves."

Germany lost the war, but Haefele didn't hang. Instead, in the postwar confusion, he slipped into quiet anonymity. His name appeared on no lists of war criminals. His background escaped allied investigators.

He was living on a modest pension in Karlsruhe when retribution knocked about two

Fourth Member Is Taken to Hospital in Critical Condition

CHICAGO (AP)—Three members of a family perished early today when flames engulfed the two-story brick bungalow on the city's Far South Side. Another member of the family was in critical condition.

Dead were Phillip Bonelli Sr., 32, a barber, his wife, Phyllis 30, and a son Robert, 16, a high school student.

Fire Chief John Dillon said a neighbor, Mrs. Frank Neylon, reported the fire after being aroused by screams from the Bonelli home.

Another neighbor, Fred Estrin, 43, told firemen he saw Phillip Bonelli Jr. emerge from the burning home, then turn back inside in an apparent attempt to rescue his parents and brother.

Dillon said the fire apparently started in a basement sofa from a discarded cigarette, then spread through the house. Dillon estimated damage at $5,000. The bungalow was destroyed.

Phillip Bonelli Jr. was rescued by firemen from a second-story window.

Tshombe Asks Thant For Talks

BY ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The giant Union Miniere copper mining combine fell in line today with United Nations plans for quick reunification of the Congo, even while sporadic fighting persisted within Katanga, the secessionist province.

At the same time, Moise Tshombe, beleaguered president of the breakaway province, appealed to U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant for a meeting with some U.N. representative "not engaged in the operation now in progress" in Katanga.

Reparations Goal

The company — with Belgians, Britons and Americans among its backers—announced in Brussels its experts will leave tonight for Leopoldville.

Their mission, as defined in a company communique: "To assist representatives of the Congolese central government and of Katanga in the drawing and drafting of a project for repatriation of the currency resulting from the sale of Union Miniere products."

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Tshombe, leader of a cause that seemed militarily doomed, agreed conditionally to return to Elisabethville for renewed dickering on unification.

A U.N. spokesman in Leopoldville said the world organization so far had not taken cognizance of Tshombe's newest appeal.

In a message to Thant from diplomatic sources in Katanga, Tshombe said:

"I beg you to arrange an immediate meeting between myself and one of your representatives not engaged in the operation now in progress."

Adheres to Plan

"I confirm my adherence to the U. Thant plan (for reuniting the Congo)."

Thant's unity plan, which he wants put into effect by Jan. 14, calls for a 50-50 split of Katanga's revenue with the impoverished central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula. Most of the revenues come from Union Miniere.

Tshombe's government has been getting about $40 million a year from taxes, royalties and dividends.

A delayed dispatch from Elisabethville and fresh radio reports from Belgian sources in Elisabethville told of heavy fighting between U.N. troops and Katangans on the Elisabethville-Jakobville road, which leads northwest toward Tshombe's emergency headquarters in Kolwezi.

A dispatch from Kitwe, Northern Rhodesia, said heavy fighting continued today.

Negotiators Trying To End Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators were called into session today for another effort to settle the dock strike which has tied up shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Representatives of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association were reported far apart on contract issues when the talks were recessed Monday.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who is mediating in the dispute, said there were some signs of understanding between the two sides. The strike of 40,000 dock workers on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts is in its 11th day.

The contract terms reached here between the union and the shipping association, which represents 145 ship and stevedoring companies, traditionally have set the pattern for agreements in other ports.

Three Hurt In Neenah Auto Crashes

NEENAH — One Neenah man was hospitalized and two Menasha women sustained minor injuries in a two-car collision at 3:15 a.m. Tuesday here at the intersection of North Commercial and High Streets.

Taken to Theda Clark Hospital for treatment of head lacerations was Verne V. Monty, 51, 318 Church St., Neenah, driver of a car which struck the rear of an auto operated by William O. Hoks, 28, route 2, Menasha.

Pump Too Big, So Appleton Has To Buy New Unit

You have heard the one about the guy who built a boat in his basement and ...

Well, the City of Appleton has found itself in a similar predicament.

The council's street-sanitation committee had intended to purchase a sewage sludge pump and motor for the present treatment plant but ... the unit was too big and crews couldn't get it into the basement.

"It just wouldn't fit, so I guess we will have to get a different type of a unit," Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe told the committee.

So, the committee decided to cancel an order for the pump and motor which it had intended to purchase from Crane Engineering Sales, 1110 W. Wisconsin Ave., for $9,880.

The committee plans to advertise for bids this time for a unit that will fit into the building.

Retailers Ask Higher Fees in Closing Sales

Stiffer Ordinance Backed as Owners Say Law Too Lax

The Appleton Downtown Retail Association today considered proposals for a city ordinance that would increase the licensing fees and shorten the maximum time for closing out sales.

The committee will prepare a specific ordinance and present it for discussion before the association makes a definite recommendation to city officials.

Recommendations presented by Fred Kobussen, chairman of the committee, were to have fees of $50 for the first 15 days of the sale, an additional $100 for the second 15 days, and $30 per day for up to 15 more days. This would mean a maximum of 45 days and a maximum cost of $600.

The present city ordinance allows a maximum of 90 days and provides for fees of $25 for a 15 day sale, $50 for 30 days, $75 for 60 days, and $25 per day for up to 30 additional days, and a further fee of $1 per $1,000 of inventory at the beginning of the sale.

License too Low

Kobussen said under the present ordinance the length of the sales is too long, the licensing fees are too low, the definition of the sale is incomplete, and the ordinance tends to promote drawn-out sales. It is important that removal sales be included in the ordinance, he said.

Kobussen suggested that some method be worked out so that a small store will not have to pay as high a fee as a large store, and that the inventory charge be included in the proposed ordinance.

The purpose of the association's study of the closing out sale ordinance is to bring it up to date, clarify and strengthen it, said Giles Flanagan, executive secretary. The committee is studying state statutes and what other cities are doing in regard to closing out sales.

2 Neenah Men Plan to Build Lake Channel

OSHKOSH — Testimony was taken by examiner H. A. Lewis of the Public Service Commission at the courthouse here this morning on the application of two Neenah men for permission to build a waterway system off Lake Winnebago in the Town of Oshkosh.

Lynn Werner, president of two Neenah electrical firms, and Kenneth P. Wisnec, a Neenah excavating contractor, plan to build three channels in a 60-acre plot between Island Point Road and Indian Point Road and to develop that area into 108 residential lots.

Werner testified on recent purchases of property in that area and the plans for residential development which would offer boat mooring facilities and an access to Lake Winnebago for residents in that area.

Three channels are planned which would extend from the existing channel along Island Point Road. There also would be a channel connecting to the channel built earlier by George P. Nevitt north of the Indian Bay Road, he said.

College Ave. Rebuilding Gains Backing in Council

Appleton Mayor Tells Merchants They May Have to Use Back Doors Of Stores During Time of Work

The push for reconstruction of College Avenue — a project talked about in recent years but not included as yet in the capital improvement plans of the common council — is gaining momentum.

With the advent of 1963 came these developments:

A registered engineer hired recently by the city to work through the winter months is scheduled to start preliminary survey work this week on the avenue.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell suggested that College Avenue merchants had better start thinking of fixing up the rear entrances to their establishments because they will be doing most of their business through the back door once actual work is started on College Avenue.

V. I. Minahan, chairman of the Downtown Tomorrow Committee of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, wrote the mayor and common council a letter and said his group is willing to cooperate with city officials in developing some preliminary proposals in regard to redeveloping College Avenue.

Will Take Time

Engineers say it will take from one to two years to plan the street project, including the installation of all new sewers.

The engineer is a representative of the W. T. Collings Engineering firm, Milwaukee, which supervised the construction of the city's first parking ramp and is mapping final plans for a second. Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe suggested several weeks ago that the engineer be hired to obtain grade figures and other preliminary data in connection with every building presently located on College Avenue. Crowe and Mayor Mitchell told the council this work would have to be done no matter when a street reconstruction project is started.

In recent months there has been considerable informal talk by aldermen at council committee meetings concerning the College Avenue rebuilding. Some aldermen have been complaining that the street and curb is "breaking up" on the avenue and a casual inspection of the downtown area will bear this out.

Plan Special Meeting

At present, the city only has a long-range capital improvement program to take it through 1963. The council is expected to hold a special meeting sometime this year to map out a realistic program which would cover a five-year period and could conceivably include the College Avenue project.

Last week it was mentioned at a meeting of department of public works officials that reconstruction of the entire College Avenue sewer system would have to be done in conjunction with rebuilding the street.

Mitchell has indicated he would like to get the College Avenue project going but says merchants should start making preparations.

None Seriously Hurt in Mishaps During Long New Year's Weekend

An accident involving cars driven by James A. Jansen, 15, 143 Washington St., Kaukauna, and Dale J. Wierschke, 22, 408 Cleveland Ave., Little Chute, resulted in injuries to three Fox Cities Area youths.

The mishap occurred on State 114 about three miles east of Waverly Beach at 1:20 a.m. Sunday. Jansen told county police he was traveling west, noticed another car in the ditch, and was rammed from behind when he slowed to investigate. Wierschke said he wasn't able to stop in time after seeing the brake lights on Jansen's car.

Leg Injured

Maria Vander Heiden, 19, route 1, Menasha, suffered a bruised left leg, and Floyd Kieffer, 22, 4601 S. Wisconsin Road, Appleton, complained of injuries to both ankles. Four other passengers escaped injury. The car was pushed into a field.

A semi-trailer truck operated by Anible Ramponi, 44, Kingsford, Mich., skidded off State 57 about three miles south of Chilton and jackknifed in the ditch about 1:45 a.m. Saturday.

The driver said he lost control on a patch of ice. The truck smashed through a fence and came to a halt in a field.

The car driven by Roger F. Krueger, Hilbert, hit a fence after leaving the Irish Road about five miles north of Chilton at 1 a.m. Saturday. The vehicle traveled about 450 feet after leaving the road.

4 Cent Homer Stamp Arrives

Christmas Delayed Delivery of Issue Depicting Painting

The Appleton Post Office today received its regular shipment of the Winslow Homer four-cent commemorative stamps.

Part of the Homer issue printing was held up because of the many printings of the Christmas issue and the supply of stamps for the new five-cent first class postage rate which begins Monday.

Many persons have inquired about when the post office would receive the Homer stamp, said Appleton Postmaster Francis Sumnicht.

Homer's painting, "Breezing Up," which hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., is reproduced in full color in shades of brown and blue on the new stamp.

The stamp was issued at Gloucester, Mass., on Dec. 16. The Appleton Post Office has received 50,000 of the issue, which will remain on sale as long as the supply lasts.

The four-cent Christmas stamp has been removed from sale.

The post office also has five-cent stamps in sheets, coils of 100 and 500 stamps, and booklets of 20 stamps for use on and after Jan. 7. Eight-cent airmail stamps are available in booklets of 25 and coils of 400. Four-cent single and double postcards also are available.

Compared with counties of similar size salaries of elected officials in Outagamie County are below average.

Of the eight positions involved, only one ranks above the other counties — the sheriff's job. The Outagamie County sheriff's monthly base salary of $691.67 is higher than in most other counties paying on a salary basis. Some other counties, however pay "fees" in addition to salaries, which make exact income totals impossible to determine.

But the seven other elective positions — county clerk, treasurer, clerk of courts, register of deeds, superintendent of schools, judge and district attorney — have a composite salary beneath the norm established by 14 of the state's larger counties.

The Bureau of Personnel report does not compare salaries of coroners, who are paid by different methods. Some counties, such as Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Waupaca, pay on a $16 per day basis when the coroner is called. A few counties pay a straight salary and this means of payment is becoming more widespread.

During 1962, Outagamie County coroner's fees amounted to $1,944. In some counties of similar size which pay on a salary basis, these are the annual figures: Brown, $4,080; Racine, $4,000; Waukesha, $5,100; Kenosha, $2,800; and La Crosse, $2,400.

The 1962 summary by the department of administration listed the Outagamie County district attorney's salary at $583.33 a month. However the salary was raised by $800 a year two months ago, which brings the monthly figure to about $904.

District attorneys in other counties get as little as $800 per month (in Florence County) and as much as $1,530 a month (in Milwaukee County.) Some are part-time jobs.

Fourteen counties similar to Outagamie pay a salary which Statistics furnished in a list of jobs compiled by the State Department of Administration's Bureau of Personnel show that 18 non-elected Outagamie County employees receive an average of $704.66 a year less than their counterparts in counties of comparable size.

The figures show that these employees' average monthly salary is $58.72 less than in 13 counties whose pay figures were used to determine an average.

The 13 counties used to determine the average were Brown, Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Kenosha, La Crosse, Manitowish, Marathon, Ozaukee, Portage, Rock, Sheboygan, Waukesha and Winnebago.

Neighboring Waupaca and Calumet counties were not used in the study because their populations are much smaller than Outagamie's.

The salaries used in making the comparison were maximum base pay salaries, exclusive of longevity payments. The Outagamie county salaries included raises granted by the county board in November, while the other county figures do not include raises for 1963, if any.

The positions and the salaries are:

Neenah Youth Held After Guilty Pleas

OSHKOSH — A Neenah youth was ordered held in the Winnebago County jail without bond for sentencing next Monday for resisting arrest and drunk and disorderly conduct. Donald Peterson, 38, 717 Cedar St., pleaded guilty to both charges when arraigned this morning.

He was arrested New Year's Eve at the Henry Pahlow farm, route 1, Neenah, after getting in an argument with Pahlow. County police reported they had to use force and handcuffs to subdue Peterson.

Appleton Youth Found Inside Variety Store

OSHKOSH — A 15-year-old Appleton boy was apprehended late Tuesday afternoon inside the W. T. Grant Store at Valley Fair in the Town of Menasha. Entry was gained by breaking a window, police said.

This was the sixth break-in at the Grant store in the last two months. Taken in the various break-ins were clothing items, records and about $5 in change.

The boy was found after a search of the store by Winnebago County police after a report was received the store had again been entered. The boy is being questioned by county authorities.

Supreme Court Candidates, School Bus Law

Three candidates for justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court have been asked by the Wisconsin Council of Citizens for Educational Freedom to give their views on the general subject of tax support for parochial school bus service.

This is an interesting question but so far the candidates for this office have not answered it. Harry E. Larsen, a Superior attorney, one of the candidates, has said he would not reply to the letter because he thought it "improper for any candidate seeking office to commit himself beforehand as to his opinion on any issue that might be submitted before the court."

Judge Bruce Beilfuss, Neillsville, another candidate, said he was not acquainted with Warren B. O'Connor, president of the council, and added, "I don't believe this sort of thing has any place in a judicial campaign."

The third candidate, Christ Alexopolous, Milwaukee attorney, said he had not received the letter.

If, as two of the candidates appear to believe, this question has no place in the campaign, what sort of a question is appropriate for a voter to ask a candidate for justice? Robert Van Hyle, of Milwaukee, in a letter to the Green Bay Press-Gazette on Sunday, has put the question in a very interesting light. He asks, "Why would it be improper for any candidate seeking office to commit himself beforehand as to his opinion on any issue that might be submitted before the court?"

Then he says, "I want to know before the election how you (the candidates) will rule in relation to bus rides, tax credits for independent children, and equal rights in education for all taxpaying parents. Otherwise I cannot vote intelligently." It is quite likely that the candidates for justice are embarrassed by this question because it is impossible for them to give a Yes or No answer on such a direct question. It is probable also that the president of the Council of Citizens for Educational Freedom contributed something to the confusion when he suggested that the council would be able to circulate nomination papers, and later during the campaign to alert over a million independent school voters and friends in Wisconsin, as to the qualifications of the candidate. It has been hinted there were suggestions of a threat or a bribe in these words.

But aside from the manner of expressing this question, it is practically certain that every voter in Wisconsin would be much interested in an answer. We do not mean to suggest that any candidate should commit himself finally and irrevocably on the decision in such a case if it should come before the court. Nevertheless, if the election of judges in Wisconsin is not to be a complete farce, based upon the general appearance of the candidate and opinions of him received second or third hand, such questions as that put by the voters must receive serious attention.

We think that the two candidates who received the question missed a great opportunity to explain in detail and in a convincing and understandable way just what the election of justices to the Wisconsin Supreme Court means and how the voters may participate in it. Further, they had an opportunity to explain the workings of the supreme court and why they feel they should not commit themselves in advance.

This question was decided by the Wisconsin Supreme Court last June when a controversial law passed by the last session of the legislature was declared unconstitutional. The decision which ended for the time all hope of state aid for the transportation of parochial children was written by Justice George Currie. The decision was supported by Justices Myron Gordon, Timothy Brown and William H. Dieterich. Justice Thomas E. Fairchild wrote a dissenting opinion which was concurred in by Justice Harold E. Hallows.

The majority decision held that such aid was prohibited by Section 18 of Article I of the Wisconsin Constitution which states that no money "may be drawn from the Treasury for the benefit of religious societies, or religious or theological seminaries."

The opinion declared that "religious societies" must be construed as synonymous with religious organizations, and since religious instruction is given in nearly all of the non-public schools operated by religious organizations or sectarian groups whose pupils are to be transported under the act, these parochial schools must be regarded as "religious seminaries" within the meaning of Section 18, Article I.

This question has been before the Wisconsin Supreme Court before and it has been before the Wisconsin electorate in official referendums. It is quite likely that it will reach the supreme court again through some other device. It is obviously impossible for any candidate for justice at this time to state what his position will be if the question should come before the supreme court later while he is a member. The division of the supreme court on this question at a later session could reverse the present decision without any change in personnel if the case were presented differently. It is not impossible for courts to reverse themselves. Consequently it would be foolhardy for any candidate for office to assert at this time what his position would be in a future case. Nevertheless we think there is plenty of room for discussion with a view to enlightening the public upon the whole question which is raised by the query of this organization.

It is quite certain that the people of Wisconsin would listen attentively to the explanation one or more of these candidates might give, picturing clearly the position of a justice on the supreme court, how he must decide such questions upon the basis of the evidence given and within the requirements of the Wisconsin Constitution. We are sure that people would understand and appreciate the frankness of a candidate for this high post who openly and honestly gave his position, stating clearly that he could not commit himself on an imaginary case, but rather must promise to give earnest attention to the new case if it should come up, and that his decision would be based upon the new question and the arguments supporting it or opposing it as they appear at the time. If the Wisconsin voter cannot have such discussion it must indeed be admitted that the whole idea of the popular election of judges is a political farce which must be reviewed.

The Packers Are Masters

The Green Bay Packers are back from the football wars bringing to Green Bay and Wisconsin their eighth world championship. The members of the 1962 Championship Packer team are truly representatives that any city and any state would be proud of. Green Bay, the Fox Cities and Wisconsin are indeed proud and happy to welcome the Packers home and to acknowledge that they are the world's greatest.

The game in New York Sunday was not an ordinary play-off game. It was a contest between two teams each worthy of championship play. It was between two teams with talent so evenly divided that even the most expert football men in the nation had difficulty in predicting the outcome.

The Packer victory was due to good, straight business-like football. They went at it as professionals should. They got a score and, while protecting their slim lead, missed no opportunity to increase it. Even with the cold, the wind and the icy field there were few errors. It is a tribute to both teams that the errors which did occur brought immediate and severe losses. Psychologically the advantage appeared to be on the side of the Giants. They were fighting back from a severe drubbing a year ago whereas the Packers might have succumbed to overconfidence because of their previous experience with their opponents.

Their success in this contest marks the Packers as sound professionals who know what they want and are not to be distracted or flustered by strange fields or hostile crowds. It had been noted that the home team appears to have the advantage because, of the 29 play-off games since the league was divided into two divisions in 1936, 20 had been won by the home team and 9 by the visitors. Now the count is 20 for the home teams and 10 for the visitors. This may mean that there has been a big gain in the direction of impartial officiating and better sportsmanship.

We believe that is true and that it means professional football is growing and improving with the passing years. We like to think also that Green Bay has made a contribution to this betterment of the game.

Again, we say, "Welcome home and well done, Packers!"

State Hospital Superintendent Thanks Volunteers for Their Aid

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Every year about this time we have many groups of citizens who wish to help make the Christmas season a more festive one for our patients. Such gestures are always welcome, and they add a great deal to the hospital program.

Throughout the year we have been blessed by many volunteers who have worked as individuals and in groups to help make the hospital environment more pleasant.

The volunteer can bring a unique and irreplaceable contribution into the therapeutic community. It is something that cannot be purchased with any amount of increased tax appropriations or supplied by technical skill. He brings the outside world into the hospital. The patient can identify with him, can form a relationship with him that is different from his relationship with those charged with his day-to-day care, a relationship that helps the patient think of himself as a member of the community, to take an interest in outside activities from which his treatment in the hospital has removed him.

Certainly we can be grateful for all the many contributions of individual volunteers, church groups, school groups, and other civic organizations have contributed toward our curriculum.

We, in our humble way, say "thank you" and hope you will continue to find room for us in your hearts.

A Happy Holiday Season to you all.

Christmas Story of 32 Years Ago Retold

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Another Christmas has come and gone — the stores are reporting their profits — and I am wondering how many families had a real Christmas, a Christmas the youngsters will never forget. Or will this be just another year to fill the attic with toys that lasted one day?

Let me tell you of a Christmas that will never be forgotten in my family. It was during the depression years, when money was scarce, and hospital insurance was even more scarce. My mother had been ill since September, and spent much of the time in bed, either at home or at our good Aunt's home. Christmas eve found mother in the old Community Hospital in New London, waiting for a new baby to be born. Dad and we four little ones were at home on a farm in Hortonville. At 11 o'clock Dad packed his four little ones up and drove to midnight mass at Hortonville — sad and tired but putting on a cheerful front for us. When Mass was over we came home, to find the big sliding door to the front parlor unlocked and a large Christmas tree trimmed, and a few toys Dad had fixed and painted. My gift was my old doll with a new wig — one made and glued on from a "switch" cut from mother's long thick hair.

While we were enjoying our gifts, the phone rang. Santa Claus was at the neighbor's house, and would be right over. We were all excited — Santa Claus was coming! Santa had large gunny bags filled with clothes, candies, toys and it seemed everything. Santa, by the way, was a young neighbor boy who was studying to become a Lutheran minister. The things in Santa's bag came from neighbors all over the area, and every neighbor had joined in to make it a real Christmas, as we youngsters found out when Dad helped us to phone and thank each one in the morning. Dad had tears in his eyes.

At the hospital on Christmas day, the good Sisters and our Uncle Otto and Aunt Leona had gifts for us under the tree. Gifts that helped us forget how sick our mother was.

That was 32 years ago — our baby brother was born 4 days after Christmas, and mother and baby were still in danger, but our good neighbors and friends all helped to make things right. Santa Claus — Walter Dobberstein — drowned while at White-water College, and never became the good minister he could have been. Our Mother passed away a year ago, after many months of illness, but our wonderful Dad is with us and keeping the family tied together. The memory of that Christmas lives on although I was only 8 years old, Dorothy was 9, Glen was only 6 and Charlotte 5 years old.

There have been many Christmases since then, and the real Christmas spirit of that year, is told each year to my own little family of four, and tears come to my eyes when I think of the goodness of those people, and I thank God for giving us parents so loved by all, and try to instill in our children the real Christmas spirit, that love from and for all is the best gift at Christmas.

Thank you for letting me give this little tribute to my parents and friends.

State Supervision of Insurance Business Is Growing Problem

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON, Wis. — The budget hearing of the state insurance department the other day was dismissed with a few routine paragraphs in most of the dispatches, but the implications of the testimony were worth a good deal more.

Quite matter-of-factly Commissioner Charles Manson related that the gross volume of insurance sales in Wisconsin is rapidly approaching one billion dollars a year, and that the task of supervising and regulating such an immense economic enterprise of such direct impact upon every person and household is presenting challenges that the state government has not yet faced up to directly.

Mr. Manson didn't draw the parallel, but at least one listener reflected that the field of insurance may be the big new regulatory responsibility of the state in the years ahead, even as the regulation of utilities and transport companies, such as railroads, provided the state government with its first big regulatory responsibility at the turn of the century.

Doubtless the pioneering work the Wisconsin state government achieved in the field of utility regulation was necessary and timely. Surely it has been permanently established. The public service corporations have been tamed, in effect, if they will pardon the phrase. There is scarcely a ripple of public controversy or public discussion about the Public Service Commission, the agency directly involved, in contemporary politics.

Rates and practices of utilities, railroads, bus lines and others are established by the power of the state, and there is no longer any dispute about it. It is an accepted fact.

THE COMPARISON

Yet to the average man, as a wage-earner, or a farmer, or a business executive, the economic importance of insurance is far greater than his utility or transport charges, and the state's role as a regulatory agent is nowhere as clearly established, or accepted.

The insurance commissioner touched upon the problem in general terms, but revealing ones. He told of the old lady who was solicited by an itinerant salesman to buy a health insurance policy, wrote a check for the annual premium, and never heard from him again. The department, he said, must stand as the protector of the "unsophisticated buyer." He didn't say so explicitly, but there are probably more unsophisticated buyers of insurance, and especially in the newly evolving lines, than in any other phase of modern life.

As Manson told his story, the department is receiving hundreds of complaints from insurance buyers, and especially from those in the field of accident and health insurance where contract forms have not yet been made uniform, and where the actuality of benefits is often different from the hopes of the insured. The history of insurance shows that these problems will ultimately be met, but the narrative of the commissioner indicates that for the next few years the state must be prepared for a more active supervisory role than it has been accustomed to providing.

TRENDS

As the insurance department officials told it, there are problems in other fields.

The current financial experience of some of the auto casualty companies has the department worried. Some of the smaller underwriters are in difficulty, and they cannot afford to raise their rates because of the competitive situation in which they are operating. Charles Timbers, the veteran deputy commissioner, told Gov. Elect Reynolds bluntly that the way things are going, there will be a "big three" in auto insurance, as there has been an emergency of a "big three" in auto manufacturing. Is that bad for the public? He didn't elaborate, but he thought it important enough to inform Reynolds, nevertheless.

Manson said his department is prepared to pay more attention to some of the underwriting organizations that have had a favored status, by tacit consent of the legislature and their competitors, in earlier eras.

Need to Recognize Change Vital in '63

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

As we enter the tremulous year of 1963, I can think of no better contemporary text for our reading and reflection than a few paragraphs prophetic a half dozen years ago by the physicist, J. Robert Oppenheimer.

In his book, "The Open Mind," Dr. Oppenheimer sets the task before us more clearly and concisely than any I have heard. This task is our pressing universal need to recognize change, and to cope with it.

"In an important sense," Dr. Oppenheimer reminds us, "this world of ours is a new world, in which the unity of knowledge, the nature of human communities, the order of society, the order of ideas, the very notions of society and culture have changed, and will not return to what they have been in the past."

"What is new is new not because it has never been there before, but because it has changed in quality. One thing that is new is the prevalence of newness, the changing scale and scope of change itself, so that the world alters as we walk in it, so that the years of man's life measure not some small growth or rearrangement or moderation of what he learned in childhood, but a great upheaval."

"What is new is that in one generation our knowledge of the natural world engulfs, upsets, and complements all knowledge of the natural world before. The techniques among which and by which we live, multiply and ramify, so that the whole world is bound together by communication, blocked here and there by the immense synapses of political tyranny."

"The global quality of the world is new. Our knowledge of and sympathy with remote and diverse peoples, our involvement with them in practical terms, and our commitment to them in terms of brotherhood."

"What is new in the world is the massive character of the dissolution and corruption of authority, in belief, in ritual, and in temporal order. Yet this is the world that we have come to live in. The very difficulties which it presents derive from growth in understanding, in skill in power."

"To assail the changes that have unmoored us from the past is futile, and in a deep sense, I think it is wicked. We need to recognize the change and learn what resources we have."

I quote from Dr. Oppenheimer's book at such length because I believe that what he has said needs to be deeply imprinted on every mind in the year ahead. Our grasp of what he calls "the changing scale of change itself" may determine whether we leave this year any wiser and better than we entered it, or whether, indeed, we leave it at all.

Brutal Murder of Union Men

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Jan. 15, 1963.

During the terrible fighting around Murfreesboro (Tenn.), the Rebel cavalry, being stronger than ours, penetrated to the rear of the Union army and destroyed part of our munitions and baggage.

They found some Negroes in charge of our wagons, of whom 20 failed to escape, and these unarmed, unresisting men were forthwith murdered.

Retaliation is not only urgently called for, but we cannot understand how our Government can hereafter allow any cartel for the exchange of prisoners in which the blacks are not expressly provided for.

If there must be a war of extermination, let not our brave

Union men be the only ones exterminated.

Husband's Higher Education Will Prove Good Investment

BY MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I want Ted to finish his college education, which was interrupted two years ago because of his mother's illness and death. We plan to be married next month, and I want him to give up his job and try living on my salary alone, take-home $337 a month. It would be only for two more years. Ted's tuition and books would be covered by what his mother left him. Don't you think that makes sense?

Betsy W., Louisville, Ky.

Dear Betsy:

I do indeed. Many a couple live on less, and what difference does it make right now who buys the popcorn and peanuts? How does this look to you: rent, $80 a month; food, $85; clothing, $35, household operation, $25; personal expenses, such as yours and Ted's lunch and transportation, $60; medical, $12; insurance and savings, $30, vacation and recreation, $10.

It looks as if a car at this time would be a luxury you'll have to forego. If there doesn't seem to be much of an allowance for fun in this suggested spending plan remember it's only for two years. And investment in your husband ought to net you a lifetime profit!

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have just taken $300 out of the bank for a trip. I seem to be continually withdrawing money from my savings, through I know this isn't smart in the long run. Am I just a poor manager?

C. E. T., Hartford Conn.

Dear C. E. T.:

Let's just say you could do with a little more organization. I think you'll find it more satisfactory to keep separate savings accounts—one for long range goals, another for short range — trips such as you're taking now, annual insurance premiums, or other substantial expenditures. Your long range savings would be aimed at retirement and/or investments. Keep hands off this latter account, and rely entirely on the short-range savings for sporadic raids. This way both your conscience and your bookkeeping will be easier.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband belongs to several luncheon clubs, which make his expenses higher than they should be. I think, on his $154 a week. In fact, they're about $20 a week. He insists it's good for his business, but the cost has cut our savings in two. Before he joined these clubs recently we could put aside $20 a week. Now it's only $10. Is that progress?

Mrs. B.L.M., Detroit, Mich.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Cutting your savings isn't, certainly. But a man is entitled to spend something of what he earns on self-advancement. If his company won't pay the tab, you're stuck with it. Instead of blowing your top, try to find that extra $10 somewhere else in your budget besides your savings. Pare a little off your entertainment and vacation funds, cut down on your food costs. One way of finding out whether his luncheon clubs are really important, is to give him simpler dinners. If he doesn't complain, then the lunches are probably worth it!

What Things a Writer Can Learn From Mail

BY EARL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
Someone has figured out those are more than 100 different things you can do with leftover Christmas turkey. Our favorite is to make it as bait for a ship making a round-the-world trip.
The ordinary has never heard of Thomas A. Edison, but because of his inventive genius she has to work harder. Use of electric lights to lengthen short winter days has spurred chickens to lay 10 per cent more eggs.
Men dial 26 per cent more wrong numbers than women. Telephone operators spend only seven minutes a day at home making personal calls.
Early Puritans denounced Christmas celebrations. In 1659 the General Court of Massachusetts passed a law making it a penal offense to observe Christmas.
Early Dutch settlers in America changed the name of Santa Nicholas to Santa Claus. Author Washington Irving invented his reindeer-drawn sleigh. Cartoonist Thomas Nast added the red coat and cap Santa has worn since Civil War days.
Nearly $1 out of every $5 spent by Americans last year went for some form of transportation.
If Irving Berlin, who started as a street singer at 14, never wrote another tune—he's turned out more than 900 in 35 years—he'd still get more than $100,000 a year in royalties as long as he lives.
In 1949, only 49.8 per cent of the U.S. population was female; today the figure is 50.7 per cent.

During that time the percentage of women in the labor force has risen from 28.5 to 34.1, but they still earn only 59 per cent of all wages and salaries.
Exchange date
In 1950, some 8.5 per cent of men over 14 were illiterate—but only 3.4 per cent of the women.
About a third of all Christmas presents are exchanged, but women on exchange only about 2 1/2 per cent of gifts they receive from men.
More than half of the registered nurses in America are married.
A Midwest town once had an ordinance making it illegal for two people at a dinner table to use the same finger bowl.
It was Finley Peter Dunne who advised, "Trust everybody, but not the cards."
Police Department On New Work Schedule
CLINTONVILLE — Beginning Jan. 1, members of the Clintonville police department went on a new work-week schedule. They now work six days and are off two days. Previously, their schedule was five days on and one day off, according to Police Chief James Beggs.
